

Spring On The Rocks

Spring made a chilled entrance this week as evidenced by these ice-encrusted shrubs. After a weekend of rain and sleet, the new season made its debut Tuesday morning with continued showers and winter-like temperatures, with no promise of warm, sunny skies until later in the week.

May Pave Way For Branch Bank Plan In Industrial Zone

By Sue Aucella Deacon

There is little doubt that a branch bank on River Road would be a convenience to West Andover residents, but does it belong in the town's most restrictive industrial zone?

Town meeting will consider that question with Article 54, proposed by the Andover Savings Bank to allow banking establishments in the Industrial D zone along River Road, where West Andover Industrial Tech Park is located.

The Planning Board has rejected the article as written, but the selectmen did not rule out giving Article 54 their approval after discussing it with Andover Savings Bank representatives Monday night.

And the town manager said that an amendment that could be made on the floor of town meeting might make the article more acceptable to town officials.

Andover has three industrial zones. Under the current zoning law (Section IV.B), banking establishments are allowed as a matter of right in Industrial G, the least restrictive zone; are allowed with a permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals in Industrial A; and are not allowed at all in Industrial D, the most restrictive zone.

The Andover Savings Bank, in Article 54, has proposed allowing banking establishments as a matter of right in every industrial zone — with no Zoning Board permit required.

Andover Atty. Richard Asoian, representing the bank, said bank officials have an option on a residential parcel at 159 River Road owned by Francis and Kathleen Morris. The property is located on the corner of Shattuck Road, which leads to the Hewlett-Packard plant.

Current zoning laws offer "no clear designation of where branches could open," the attorney said, adding that "banking is different" from other commercial operations and "should be designated separately."

(The bank did not consider trying to re-zone the River Road parcel to Industrial G, where banks are now allowed, because that would have been seen as spot zoning in an area now zoned entirely Industrial D, he added.)

He maintained that offering a branch bank would be "a public convenience" to area residents. Asoian said the bank would meet with neighbors to discuss the plan next Monday night, but to date has heard "no serious opposition from adjoining neighbors."

The planning board has already voted to recommend disapproval of Article 54. Staff planner Nancy Jeton explained that the Industrial D zone was carefully planned to include only light manufacturing uses — not

Only One Contest Monday

The annual town election will, for better or for worse, be held next Monday, March 26, with only one contest on the ballot and little excitement to lure voters to the polls.

Town Clerk Elden Salter, anticipating a quiet election day, hopes the town's 15,516 registered voters will somehow be inspired to come to the polls Monday. The election will be held from 7 a.m. (an hour earlier than usual this year) to 8 p.m. at Dunn Gymnasium, Andover High School, for all eight precincts.

The town election season has passed without a whisper of campaigning, as three incumbents are up for re-election with no opposition: Selectman Donn Byrne of 15 Lovejoy Road, School Committeeman Michael Giammusso of 68 Summer St., and Town Moderator James Doherty of 9 Juniper Road.

The selectman and school committeeman seek to begin new three-year terms, while the moderator is looking for another one-year term.

Only the Andover Housing Authority contest brings a breath of competition to the election, with four candidates hoping to win one five-year seat on the authority. Chairman Winston Blake is stepping down from the authority this year, creating a vacancy.

The AHA candidates are Eileen Connolly of 111 Chestnut St., Ronald Hajj of 22 Enmore St., Marion Smith of 135 Chestnut St., and Thomas Walsh, Jr. of 6 Holly Terrace.

Do a good deed Monday: brighten a poll-worker's day, and, vote.

Smith To Succeed Mattheson

Rodney L. Smith, assistant town accountant, will become the town accountant on July 1, upon the retirement of Town Accountant Wendell A. Mattheson. The selectmen Monday night voted unanimously to appoint Smith to the position.

Smith has been working as assistant accountant since October 1980, when he was hired to begin training as Mattheson's eventual successor. He is a graduate of Suffolk University, and worked for a number of years as chief supervisor of accounting in the state Executive Office for Economic Affairs in Boston. He lives in Haverhill with his wife, Nancy.

Hearing Continued To Tuesday

A Planning Board public hearing on town meeting Article 53 — a proposal to rezone the Knights of Columbus lot on Frontage Road from Single Residence C to Industrial A — will be continued next Tuesday at the new town offices.

The public hearing, continued from Feb. 28, will be held at 8 p.m. in the third floor conference room of the town offices on Bartlet Street.

Shawsheen CARD District Expanded

One of Andover's CARD (Commercial Area Revitalization District) districts has been expanded to include additional industrial property in Shawsheen Village.

The selectmen Monday night voted unanimously to amend the Shawsheen CARD district to include the Shetland Properties on Haverhill Street, making that property eligible for low-interest industrial revenue bonding.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony told the board the property owners will apply to the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Authority (MIFA) for funding to reconstruct a ten-story building that is visible only from Route 495.

The planned renovations — which include refinished masonry, upgraded elevators and new landscaping — will improve both the aesthetics and operation of the building, Mahony said.

Sewer Permits Issued For $3M In Home Building

The Board of Selectmen, in their role as sewer commissioners, Monday night approved 37 sewer connections for $3 million worth of new residential construction in town.

The board approved sanitary sewer connections for one subdivision lot on Lovejoy Road, one on Bradley Road, one on Lowell Street, four lots on David Drive, 12 lots of Acropolis Circle, 13 lots on Nicoll Drive, and five lots on Charlotte Circle. According to Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, those new homes add up to $3 million in new construction.

In other business Monday, the board approved a permit for a Phillips Academy-sponsored bicycle race, the New England Prep Cycling Federation race, for Sunday, May 13, Old Campus Road, School Street, Central Street and Phillips Street will be closed during the race, from 2 to 5 p.m.

New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. received permission to lay underground cables under Old River Road, while Massachusetts Electric received permission to lay underground electrical conduits under Webster Street, Frontage Road and River Road. Mass. Electric also received permission to erect a pole with wires and fixtures across Old River Road.

And Bay State Gas received retroactive approval for emergency excavations made during February at 8 Abbot Bridge Road, Rutgers at Haggetts Pond Road, 11 Marion Avenue, 12 Locke St., 53 Salem St. and 119 Lowell St.

Reprocessors Need Clear Glass

Ever since its inception, Andover's recycling program has called for both paper and glass, but it seems that many of the townspeople who recycle regularly leave only paper at curbside for pickup every other week.

Newspapers and magazines do command attention, whether they're drawing eyes to their headlines, lying around the house or stacked and waiting to be recycled.

Recyclable glass, on the other hand, is almost invisible, not only because it may be colorless, but also because we're concentrating on what's inside it, the part we use, and not the container itself.

David White, the Andover businessman whose company buys the green and clear glass to recycle, has recently stated that his market for clear glass especially is bigger than ever. He believes that only a fraction of the available glass in Andover is reaching him. Although some grooming items such as shampoo and mouthwash are often packaged in plastic now, all kinds of foods still come in glass containers: spaghetti sauce, juices, peanut butter, jelly, cooking oil, salad dressing, liquors, ketchup, soy sauce, mustard, mayonnaise, pickles and many others. Glass bottles are more suitable than plastic for storing soft drinks because they retain carbonation that is quickly lost from even unopened plastic containers. All sizes of glass-bottled beverages can still be found among the plastic.

An easy way to present glass for recycling is in wastebaskets or laundry baskets that will not fall apart in bad weather. Plastic bags should not be used because they look like items for the trash collection and the recycling truck will not stop for them.

To Discuss Defense Policy

A new defense policy that relies on the power of civilian resistance to frustrate the objectives of foreign invaders is the topic of a public lecture sponsored by the Unitarian Universalist Church, 6 Locke St., Andover, on Tuesday, March 27, at 8 p.m.

"Civilian-based Defense: A Nonviolent Strategy for National Security" is the title of the talk to be given by Robert Irwin, a staff member of the Program on Nonviolent Sanctions in Conflict and Defense at Harvard University's Center for International Affairs.

Proponents of the policy hold that in the nuclear age, when use of military power may prove suicidal, defense objectives might better be assured by training a nation's population to resist aggression by noncooperation and nonviolent defiance so as to make their country unconquerable.

Analysis of historical cases of improvised nonviolent resistance (most notably the the Czechoslovakians in 1968-69 against the Soviet invasion) has suggested to certain scholars that suitably prepared resistance might provide a stronger, more realistic defense capacity than military means for many countries.

Irwin is the author of the study guide "U.S. Defense Policy: Mainstream Views and Nonviolent Alternatives."

M.I.T. Group To Visit High School

A team of alumnae and women faculty members from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, accompanied by members of the Society for Women Engineers (SWE) and the association of Women in Science (AWIS) will visit Andover High School March 26 to talk with students about the importance of studying mathematics and science.

The women will discuss their school backgrounds in light of the careers they are pursuing and will stress that studying math and science is essential in maintaining the widest possible academic and career options.

The team will include Jane Hagen Twanchuk, management consultant; Susan Kanneberg, physicist; Margaret Primak, systems analyst and computer programmer.

The visit to Andover High School is one of 60 M.I.T. teams are making to high schools within Route 495 to encourage young women to develop their talents fully in order to live in a world of increasing technology.

The first Flag Day remembrance took place June 14, 1877, honoring the 100th birthday of the American flag.

Lecture At Bancroft Tuesday

The Bancroft P.T.O. and ASK Team will offer a lecture, "Success: Helping My Child Attain it," developed and presented by Stephanie Meegan of Wilmington, on Tuesday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. It will deal with parents' goals for their children and how to reach them. The lecture is open to parents and teachers of all Andover schools.

Meegan, a former high school teacher and mother of two, has spent many years in curriculum development. In 1983 she received the National Pride Award for her Peer Proofing Program. She recently did an inservice program on peer proofing in Andover for a group of secondary school teachers. Meegan is educational consultant.

THE DOUBLE PROFIT IRA

EARN MORE INTEREST AND LETS YOU PAY LOWER TAXES

☐ There's a double benefit to opening or adding to your IRA at Lawrence Savings Bank. You'll earn a very competitive interest rate. And you'll save in taxes.

A CHOICE OF HIGH-PAYING INVESTMENTS

☐ At Lawrence Savings Bank you have a choice of three investment options for your IRA. Select from them according to the amount you'd like to deposit and the terms of the certificate. All of these accounts give you high current-market rates. And you can transfer between accounts as your certificates mature.

TAX BENEFITS

☐ For the tax year 1983 — and until April 15, 1984 — you can deduct up to $2,000 from your taxable income with a regular IRA. For couples with one non-working spouse, the limit is $2,250. If both spouses work, it's $4,000.

You won't pay Federal taxes on your savings as your IRA grows. And you can begin to make withdrawals as early as age 59½. Then, only the amounts you withdraw are taxed by the IRS.

Employee Assistance Programs

By Penelope Cox

This is the fifth in a series of monthly articles for the Andover Townsman from the Community ASK Team. The purpose of these articles is to be informative about alcohol and drug abuse as it might affect each of us.

The Community ASK Team has completed a resource booklet. It was developed to provide resources for all people within the community so that each might make better informed choices about alcohol and drug use. The booklet will soon be available in schools, town offices and public buildings.

Meanwhile, each school ASK team continues their task of education, intervention (when necessary) and prevention of drug and alcohol use among students.

Employee assistance. What is it? What is its history? How does it relate to Andover's concern about alcohol and drug use among its citizens?

Employee Assistance Programs (EAP) are designed to help employers deal with personal problems that are affecting their employees' job performance. They are based on the premise that poor work performance from an otherwise capable employee is often the result of some personal problem that is not being dealt with; a problem that can no longer be "left at home."

Private business and industry saw Employee Assistance Programs develop in the 1940s. These early efforts were primarily organized to combat the disease of alcoholism. The companies reasoned that an employee with this disease cost its employer a tremendous amount annually through absenteeism and poor work performance. Rather than discharge an employee, employers chose to be a part of their recovery through efforts of an Employee Assistance Program.

Today, employers have expanded their EAPs to include not only alcohol, but any chemical dependence. Emotional and behavioral issues, family issues plus financial and work problems also affect work performance and job satisfaction and require intervention through an Employee Assistance Program.

Each EAP program differs, depending on the resources available. An effective EAP must be fashioned according to such individual characteristics as the availability of community medical and counseling resources, the kind of insurance coverage available and the number of employees in a given work setting. Often EAPs of today provide services to an employee's family as well.

An EAP is set up specifically to offer assistance to employees who consistently perform below acceptable standards. Often personal problems are successfully dealt with by the employee while job performance is maintained.

Professional staffing of those empowered to carry out an EAP is a vital part of the program. Two years ago Jean Chaplik was hired locally to administer Wangs new EAP. Today there is an additional staff of six to assist her. She feels one major reason the program has become so successful is a direct result of total cooperation by the company.

An employee is fortunate to be employed by a company with an Employee Assistance Program. This is an additional and successful help and support for those not only combating a chemical dependency but other common problems as well.

Two resources for information on help in the fields of employee assistance and alcoholism are: Christopher D. Smithers Foundation, 41 E. 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10022 and National Council on Alcoholism, 733 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

At the schools:

March 27, Stephanie Meeghan, Bancroft, 7:30 p.m. (rescheduled March 13 lecture).

April 2, Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week at AHS. Activities include a movie, a panel discussion by teenage alcoholics followed by organized discussions throughout the day.

April 26: PTO program, 7 p.m. Dr. Donald McClan, "Substance Abuse," fifth and sixth grade students and parents.

Novelist To Speak Sunday

Robert B. Parker, author of the Spenser novels, will speak in Andover on Sunday, March 25, at West Elementary Auditorium at 3 p.m. This event is sponsored by the Friends of Memorial Hall Library. Tickets are available at Memorial Hall Library, The Andover Book Store, Thompson's and Andover Antiquarian Books, 68 Park St. (rear). Proceeds will benefit Memorial Hall Library.

Parker has had a diversified career, encompassing technical writing, copywriting and college teaching before devoting himself full time to his greatest love, writing fiction. A resident of Lynnfield, he is thoroughly familiar with Boston landmarks and lifestyle and incorporates this knowledge into his Spenser novels with remarkable ease. His hero, Spenser, is equally at home having cocktails at the Ritz-Carlton with one of his clients or trying all the varieties of ethnic foods at Quincy Market. Spenser is a tough 20th century Sir Galahad, coming to the aid of people in distress and overcoming the difficulties successfully. He typifies Parker's idea of the 20th century detective as a modern heroic figure in literature.

For people knowledgeable about the Boston streets layout, it is fun recognizing the routes that Spenser follows for his chases.

Young Musicians In District Concert

Twenty-three Andover youngsters participated in the 12th Annual Northeastern Junior District Concert held at the J. Everett Collins Center, on Saturday, March 10.

The junior high school students must audition in order to a part of the yearly musical performance. The Andover students competed with youngsters from over 60 area schools for a spot in band, orchestra, boy's and girl's choruses.

Featured in the band were clarinet players Taryn Marke and Stephanie Schulz. Bart Kalkstein played the cornet and Susan Wood was featured on the trombone.

Cheryl Cluck and Shannon Smith played the violin in the orchestra while Kim Patti and Kerrin Hoffman were featured on the viola. Kurt Nickerson played the french horn.

The boy's chorus spotlighted soprano Frank Padellaro, altos Randall Bachner, Glenn Fortin, Jerome Guerard and Steven Trussell. Robert Devaney and John Orbe were baritones in the chorus.

And, in the girl's chorus featured sopranos were Kristin Salvi, Christine Craig, Sarah Josephine Perry and Mari Helen Watkinson. Tara Wynne Bachner, Elizabeth Cox and Shorey Walker sang in the also section of the girl's chorus.

The Andover Public School system played host for the concert this year. And Diana Kolben served as fine arts Program Advisor.

Doherty Happenings

By Steve Mencis and Matt Corbett

For the last few months of school, Doherty Junior High is ready to tackle everything they have planned. Just recently the Student Council sponsored the movie, "The Outsiders." It was a great turnout, and we'd like to thank Bart Kalkstein and Stephen Gack for running the film. On March 23 there is open cafe for all grades. Admission is 50¢ and soft drinks will be sold.

The school store is now selling a wide variety of foods and cola, T-shirts, painter's caps and school supplies. The school store is open in the morning, during lunch and after school. There will be no food or drink sold in the store during lunchtime. Special thanks to the store manager/school treasurer, Melissa Morton, for doing an excellent job running the store.

Just recently Cheryl Scarpa and Amy Morton, president and treasurer of last year's Student Council, presented an athletic records bulletin board to the sports department. It was a gift from the class of 1983.

Last Friday, the finals of the annual Spelling Bee were held. Contestants from each of the seventh and eighth grade English classes competed. Doing well from grade seven were Christian Parker and Nikolai Gonzales. In grade eight March Levitan, Peter Newman and Laura Bicknell did well with Newman finishing second and Bicknell spelling her way to the number one spot. She will compete in the Merrimack Valley competition next month.

In a few weeks baseball, softball and track teams will be set and ready to play.

Next week on Thursday-Saturday, it will be Cabaret.

Finally, congratulations to Gillian Recesso and Suzanne Jensen of the ninth grade, both of whom competed on the high school ski team and ranked high in the recent Eastern Mass. competitions.

Western Roundup

By Vicki Anderson

At West Junior High there is one very talented French horn player, Kurt Nickerson. It can be said with some certainty that he is the best French horn player in all the junior highs of the northeast corner of this state. Our district includes all communities from as far south as Newton and Wellesly, as far west as Leominster and as far north as the border with New Hampshire.

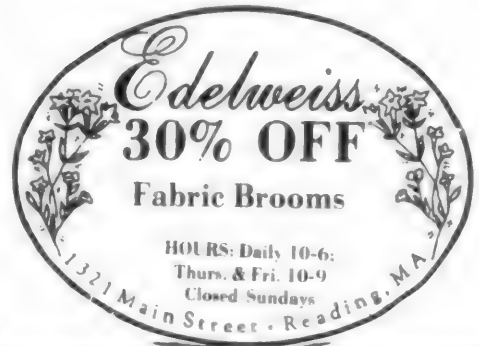

The Massachusetts Music Educator's Association has an event each year which involves selecting the best players from each district of the state and featuring them in a special concert each spring. Kurt auditioned and was selected to play first horn, first chair in the Northeast District Orchestra, a position reserved for the most skillful player in the district.

Kurt performs in the West Junior High Band, Andover High School Concert Band, Andover High Brass Ensemble and the Lowell University Wind Ensemble, among other things.

West Junior High is pleased to announce that Lindsay McCracken, a seventh grader, is the 1984 New England Juvenile Figure Skating Silver Medalist. The 1984 New England Juvenile Figure Skating Championships were held the weekend of March 3-4 at the North Shore Skating Club in Danvers. The skaters put in many hours of practice to prepare for this competition and bringing home a medal is indeed an honor.

That Mysterious Network Is Improving Schools

By Sue Aucella Deacon

There is on South Main Street, set far back from the road, a lovely Victorian house that has been a source of mystery to townspeople for the past seven years.

At the foot of a long driveway leading to the house, a small tan sign with brown lettering and a spider web logo quietly announces 290 South Main St. as the home of The Network, Inc. And what many a passerby has wondered, is The Network?

"People have told me they thought it was Channel 2," Network Director David Max McConkey says with a laugh.

But The Network has nothing to do with PBS, or any other television network. It is, in fact, a non-profit educational research and training company that specializes in improving schools — public, private and parochial — all across the nation.

The Network's executive director, David P. Crandall, Ed.D., founded the organization in 1969 to help schools share their good ideas, and that remains a "primary focus" of the company, he says. "We're constantly trying to help people not have to re-invent the wheel, to work collaboratively," he explains.

Dr. Crandall moved The Network to Andover in 1977, renovating a large gray house into open, comfortable offices with loving respect for the house that had been home to four families since the turn of the century. (The renovations were carefully planned so the house could still be converted back into a residence someday, Max McConkey notes.)

Amid these elegant surroundings (hardwood floors, generous windows, carved woodwork), The Network's staff of 50 is currently working on more than 20 projects, disseminating ideas, developing and evaluating programs, offering technical assistance and support services to hundreds of school systems in Massachusetts, New England, the United States.

The executive director was a doctoral candidate at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst (and a former manager in the electronics industry) when he founded The Network 15 years ago — inspired by two professors who believed the university, with its "huge resources", should have been "doing more to help the schools in the state."

Dr. Crandall brought his own goals to the enterprise: to bring together Massachusetts' public, private and parochial schools, which "were not communicating"; to promote collaboration among schools; to draw on existing knowledge and practices; to improve education throughout the state.

"I wanted to bring together educators from different settings, to help them see that they had a common purpose, contributions to make, and the ability to change, if given a little help," he recalls.

The organization was run by "a handful of graduate students" until the spring of 1972, when it won a grant from the state Department of Education. Crandall hired a staff of ten, after putting the applicants who came to Amherst from across the country through a rigorous screening. "The survivors stayed on," McConkey says. "He was among them, joining The Network with a background in journalism and teaching." The Network then moved into a Victorian firehouse in Haverhill, overlooking the Merrimack River.

Townsman Photos by Carl Russo

The Network, Inc., at 290 South Main St.

Ten years ago, the company won its first federal grant to fund what is still one of its major projects, the Massachusetts Facilitator Project. That program grapples with the primary problems schools face today, Crandall says, by connecting educators with solutions already developed by their colleagues in other school systems.

In the enthusiasm of the post-Sputnik sixties, a lot of money was spent for innovation in American education, McConkey says. But a lot of those new ideas remained in individual schools — schools were not sharing their successes.

Through the facilitator project, he says, "Schools that had already developed good things would use us as a resource, and we would do the networking, sharing good ideas with other schools."

An example: the Sutton (Mass.) schools needed a totally new reading program, a Utah school department had developed an

Network

"exemplary" reading program that would fit Sutton's needs precisely.

The facilitator project flew in three Utah school staffers, who spent three days training Sutton teachers to teach their reading program. The result: Sutton introduced a new reading program to its students — one already proven successful — at a fraction of what it would have cost the Massachusetts community to develop such a program on its own.

The Utah people remained available for follow-up help, and eventually, Sutton teachers were ready to train others to teach the program, so a regional training system was created — and other school departments can now learn the Utah program at an even smaller cost.

Dr. Crandall calls the idea "standing on the shoulders of giants", a chance for teachers and students to "take advantage of the best." And, he adds, it lets schools that are now coping with "shrinking resources" find a way to add new programs. "It works."

Since the facilitator program began in 1974, more than 1,200 schools have "adopted" programs from other systems; more than 4,000 teachers have been trained in such programs; and more than 100,000 students have benefited.

Andover has been among the communities contributing a model program of its own: the AIRS (Andover's Individualized Reading System) reading program, which has been adopted by the Easton schools. "They do wonderful work," Andover Reading Program Advisor Theresa Murphy says of The Network. "It's really wonderful to have that resource in our community."

Some educators cautioned that teachers might resist teaching someone else's programs, but that has not happened, McConkey says: "Teachers are happy to adopt programs. They accept them with open arms. Sometimes they do some tinkering to make a program truly theirs," he adds, "and that's fine."

Besides keeping on top of the programs schools are developing, The Network designs educational programs of its own: QUILL, for instance, developed with a Cambridge high tech firm to teach students in grades four through six how to write using an Apple microcomputer. (Andover is cur-

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

Whether a kitchen looking center, incorporating a drop-in range, a built-in range over a freestanding range or a cook-top and built-in over the space requirements are the same. Eighteen inches of heat proof counter material on either side of the cooking surface will be needed. With a built-in oven, 15 inches of counter space on the working side of the unit are needed. The overall size of the cooking center will depend on the size of the appliances chosen. Freestanding ranges are available in 30 and 36 inch widths. Cooktops vary in width from 30 to 46 inches with a separate burner grill available. Wall ovens generally measure 27 to 30 inches in width.

Looking Forward To Reviving The Grand Old Party

By Susan Rand

Their goal is to strengthen the Grand Old Party and their tool will be the Massachusetts Republican Committee.

For the perhaps first time, at least for as long as they can recall, three Andover residents will serve as members of the state Republican Committee. Elected last week, the Republicans are Kimberly A. Cronin, William E. Melahn and Robert L. Merrill.

Cronin and Merrill will represent the Second Essex and Middlesex district, which includes Andover precincts one through five. And Melahn will represent precincts six through eight in the First Essex and Middlesex district. The state committee districts are the same as those served by the state's senators.

None of the three are newcomers to the political scene. In fact, they all have been active in Andover's Republican party. They hope to use their political savvy and experience to give both Andover and Massachusetts a more equal balance of Republicans and Democrats.

As Cronin, an accounts executive for the Lawrence Red Cross who lives at 8 Punchard Ave., explained, "it should be obvious to anyone that Massachusetts isn't a Republican state. That means we are number two—but we'll try harder." And while Melahn and Merrill agree with Cronin's assessment of the status of Republicans in the state they all concur that Andover has a much larger percentage of Republican voters than voting registration indicates.

According to figures from the town clerk's office, 22.5% or 3,497 of the 15,516 registered voters in Andover are Republicans.

But statistics can be deceiving, as Merrill pointed out, saying that 9,000 Andover voters cast their ballots for Ronald Reagan in the 1980 election. Merrill, who is employed at the R.M. Norton placement service, in Andover, said he thinks there is a large group of Independents and conservative Democrats that could be wooed into Andover's Republican ranks. And the 57 Cross

St. resident said he thinks there is evidence that the cross-over support will be a factor in the upcoming scramble for Paul Tsongas congressional seat.

Melahn told The Townsman he has personally endorsed Ray Shamie, who has announced for Tsongas' seat along with former state and federal Attorney General Elliot Richardson and right-to-lifer Dr. Mildred Jefferson.

"Ray Shamie beat Ted Kennedy in this town the last time he ran," said Melahn who is a partner of the Boston law firm Doherty, Melahn and Middleton. "I don't think the registration (of Republicans) in Andover is the most meaningful thing. I think the town is fairly evenly split," said Melahn, who lives at 18 Ballardvale Road.

Melahn, Merrill and Cronin explained the different functions of the state committee, but they all agreed that the first priority should be to have a Republican running against a Democrat on every ballot in every election across Massachusetts. That choice is not something that exists everywhere, they said.

Republicans—and Democrats, can only benefit from competition in any election, explained Cronin. So many times people are running unopposed. "People need a choice. That's what the political system is all about," Cronin should know. She ran against and lost to Democrat Susan Tucker for the 17th Essex district representative seat in November of 1982. And Cronin beat colleague Melahn to face Tucker in the election runoff. Cronin said she won't rule out another challenge to Tucker, "but not this year," she said.

Besides finding and backing Republican candidates the state GOP committee helps the candidates with campaign financing and tries to educate the public about issues they feel are important.

"The state group is basically a nuts and bolts committee," said Melahn.

The Andover lawyer went on to say that he thought the lack of publicity that local Republicans had garnered in the past had an effect of the popularity of the party. It is a cyclical problem, he said, the lack of publicity afforded Republicans means they are less popular and they are less popular because no one knows what they are doing.

Cronin said she was eager to get to the first Republican party meeting set for Boston sometime next month.

"Right now I want to concentrate on the state committee—find out how it works," she said. "And Andover should be proud of the fact that there are three of us on the committee. I think that says something about Andover."

To Address Andover Republicans

U.S. Senate candidate Ray Shamie will speak on Tuesday, March 27, at a meeting of the Andover Republican Town Committee at the Sheraton Rolling Green, Route 133, Andover, at 8 p.m.

Shamie of Walpole, was the state's top Republican vote-getter in 1982 in his first attempt at elective office. He announced last November that he would run for the seat now held by retiring Senator Paul Tsongas.

"The part of campaigning that I enjoy most is getting out and meeting people to hear about the issues that they think are important," Shamie said. "Whether it's the resurgence of our nation's economy or a local problem right here in Andover, the thing I like best is talking with voters about what is on their minds."

Shamie, who went to work at the age of 16 to support his family after his father died and is now founder and chairman of two Massachusetts high tech companies, said that most people he talks with are tired of lifelong politicians who make a career of working in government.

"Most voters seem to want a change," he said. "They want to send somebody to Washington who has worked in the real world, who understands their problems and who can deal with these problems using common sense."

"That's what I stand for and that's why my campaign is going very well," Shamie said. "We already have more than 2,500 active volunteers working throughout the state. But, we'll need many more if we're going to win this election."

Shamie suggested that anyone interested in learning more about his campaign call his headquarters in Boston.

DCS Playground Registration

The Andover Department of Community Services will accept registrations beginning Monday, April 2, for three of its summer playground programs. The playgrounds begin the week of Monday, June 25, and include a Tiny Tot Playground for three and four year olds, a Preschool Playground for 4½ to six year olds and an All Day Playground for children who have completed Kindergarten through six.

The Tiny Tot and Preschool programs will be housed at Bancroft School. This will enable families who have a child enrolled in each program the ease of dropping their youngsters off at one location.

Also new this summer is the enrollment of the summer program in two-week sessions. Parents may sign their children for one or more of the following two-week sessions: June 25-July 6; July 9-20; July 23-Aug. 6; Aug. 6-17. Parents who register their children for four weeks or more prior to June 1 will have priority. The four-week and eight-week discounted rates apply only at the time of initial registration.

The Tiny Tot Playground will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Parents may register their children in a two-day program (Tuesday, Thursday) a three-day program (Monday, Wednesday, Friday) or sign them up for a full week. Tiny tots must be toilet trained. Children must be three years old by June 30; two and one-half years old children who are toilet trained will be accepted on a space available basis. Close supervision will be provided (5:1 ratio).

The Preschool Playground will be held Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Children must be age four by January 1. A ratio of eight children to one staff member will be provided. Both Tiny Tot and Preschool Playground offer arts and crafts, music and movement, games, nature walks and storytelling as well as the opportunity to meet and learn how to play with a variety of children their own age. Children should bring a snack; a beverage will be provided.

The All Day Playground for children in grades K-6 (completed) will be held at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday with extended morning and afternoon hours available. Designed for children of working parents (though open to everyone), this program will provide a full day of activities. Unlike the drop-in playground where children are permitted to come and go as they please, close supervision will be provided (10:1 ratio). Activities will include arts and crafts, daily swimming and lessons, including the opportunity for Red Cross certification, sports and games. A weekly trip or special event off the playground is planned. Children bring lunch; a beverage is provided. Transportation for this program will be available to and from the technical school for Andover residents. extended playground hours are available from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Parents may register their children for the entire eight-week program or for the individual two-week sessions held throughout the summer at the DCS office in the Town Offices, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Enrollment is limited.

Registration for the Elementary School Playgrounds at Bancroft, Sanborn, West Elementary Schools and the Ballardvale playground will begin Wednesday, June 13. Further information will be provided in coming weeks.

More Fingerprint Sessions Scheduled

Two more days remain in The Mother Connection sponsored fingerprinting clinic for youngsters.

At the fingerprinting clinic parents will be given a card with their child's fingerprints. To that card they may attach a recent photograph of their child. The cards are for use in the event that the children run away or are lost. Linda Tomassino, of The Mother Connection said the cards were donated by Tom Curtin, of McDonald's Restaurant.

The final fingerprinting sessions will be held at the West Elementary School, Beacon St., on Thursday, March 22, from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m., and on Saturday, March 24, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Elm St. Funeral Home Proposal

by Funeral Director John D. Caron

We, citizens of Andover, strongly support the efforts of funeral director, John Caron, to re-zone the property of Dennis Doherty at 42-44 Elm St. for a funeral home to serve our public community needs.

Our vote and your for Article 52 on April 3rd at Town Meeting in the J. Everett Collins Center, is the only way this can become a reality, as a 2/3 vote is necessary. (Mr. Caron is offering a covenant to the current deed to restrict the property usage to funeral service and professional offices only.)

MARCH 22, 1984

Concert At Christ Church

Sue Cryan and Jan Dorsett

As part of their community outreach program in the arts, the Parish of Christ Church, Central Street, Andover, will present a harpsichord-violin duo concert on Sunday, March 24, at 4 p.m. in the Parish Hall. The Galliard Duet, a Boston-area duo with violinist Sue Cryan and harpsichordist Jan Dorsett, will be featured.

Their concert will feature works by Orlando Gibbons, Francesco Maria Veracini, George Friedrich Handel, Georg Phillip Telemann, J.S. Bach and contemporary French composer Jeanne Bovet.

Cryan has studied violin at the Hartt College of Music and Boston University's School of Fine Arts from which she graduated in 1978. For four years she performed with the Portland Symphony Orchestra and is a founding member of the Newbury Chamber Music series. Since 1980 she has been on the faculty of the Groton Center for the Arts, performs in the area and has a private teaching studio.

Dorsett is a 1972 graduate of the New England Conservatory where she studied with Helen Keaney and Daniel Pinkham. She has performed extensively throughout this area with early music ensembles and is also a faculty member of the Groton Center. As a cellist she plays with the Indian Hill Chamber Orchestra and is organist of the Hollis Congregational Church.

Cryan and Dorsett have been performing as a duo since 1982.

The one-hour program is open to the public without charge.

Williams Play In Rehearsal

Andover Community Theatre, in conjunction with the Department of Community Services, announces that the Spring production of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" is now in rehearsal.

Written by Tennessee Williams, this drama focuses on the hidden and disguised disease of our society: the avoidance of truth, the failure to face the real state of our condition, the assorted chicanery, greed, pseudo religious flimflam, resistance to acknowledge natural fact, fraudulence of social action.

This play is a search for truth beneath appearances and for an equilibrium of love between the frailty and brutality of human life.

Showdates are April 27, 28, 29 and May 3, 4 and 5 at West Elementary School, Beacon St., Andover, at 8 p.m.

OFFER EXPIRES APRIL 30

Andover Artisans In Exhibit

If spring is a time of awakening and blossoming, a time of bringing out brave new colors after a cold drab winter, it will be well celebrated in Andover this year.

The Handsprings Artisans' Exhibition and Sale, scheduled for Sunday, April 8, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. will bring the work of artisans from all over the northeast to the Phillips Academy campus in Andover. Admission is free.

This large-scale arts and crafts show will present more than 100 craftspeople and their crafts on the floor of the academy's athletic cage. More than 40 members of the Phillips Academy community will exhibit and offer for sale their work on the upper track.

The Handsprings show is the first major craft show of the season, the moment when artisans bring out the fruits of their winter's labor: hand-thrown pottery, carved wood and furniture, sweaters and quilts and needlework, hand-blown lead crystal, carved lucite, weavings and rugs, dolls, toys and more. Some craftspeople, like scrimshaw artist Don Thomas and Applehead Doll creator Harriet Cowdrey, will demonstrate how they create their art.

Many of the crafts reflect the approaching Easter season: candy, stuffed animals, baskets and children's clothes.

Handsprings will be held in the Case Memorial Cage, the Phillips Academy athletic complex, located south of Andover's business district on Route 28. Plenty of parking will be available.

Organized under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, an organization of Phillips Academy women, the Handsprings show will benefit Lawrence's soup kitchen, "Bread and Roses," and the Greater Lawrence Hospice Association.

Academy musical groups will sing and play from time to time throughout the day. The academy's radio station, WPAA, will broadcast continuously. Door prizes, donated by various artists from the show, will be awarded every hour and there will be a number of raffles.

A cafe will be set up in a nearby building and will be serviced by Aprin Strings and Word of Mouth, two Andover caterers. The menu features hot food, homemade soup, Italian sausage and pepper subs, chicken wings and other delicacies, and there will be fresh baked goodies, cookies and pastries.

They're your teeth...you can keep them!

Many people lose their teeth needlessly. Too often, neglect or improper care of the mouth results in PERIODONTAL (gum) DISEASE. This disease affects the gums, bone and other supporting structure of the teeth.

If you notice any of the following signs, please call our office for advice and treatment.

1. Gums that bleed when you brush your teeth.
2. Persistent bad breath
3. Soft, swollen or tender gums.
4. Loose teeth.
5. Gums that have shrunk away from the teeth.
6. Any change in the way your partial denture fits.
7. Any change in the spaces between your teeth or in the way your teeth bite together.
8. Pain in the jaw or neck areas, headaches above your jaw. This can be T.M.J. Syndrome.

Cellist To Perform At College

Leslie Parnas

Leslie Parnas, called "one of the outstanding cellists of our time" by Pablo Casals, will perform Sunday, March 25, at 2 p.m. in the college church at Merrimack College in North Andover.

A student of Casals and Gregor Piatigorsky, Parnas achieved international fame and recognition when he won the Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow in 1962. He became in great demand as an orchestral soloist and recitalist throughout the United States and Europe and remained extremely popular in Russia.

Parnas has appeared with the New York Philharmonic, the Boston Symphony, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the National Symphony and the St. Louis Symphony. He participated in several music festivals, including Marlboro, Tanglewood, Casals, London and the Festival of Two Worlds in Spoleto.

A charter member of the Lincoln Center Chamber Music Society, he records for Columbia, Vanguard and Book of the Month Club Records.

The concert is presented as part of Merrimack College's 1983-84 Concert Series

Spring Musicale Sunday

"Springtime Musicale with Jeanne Davis Porter and Friends" will be presented Sunday, March 25, at 2:30 p.m. at the United Presbyterian Church, 96 E. Haverhill St., Lawrence. Performing music by Bach and Ginastera will be Angela Gazza, pianist from Arlington. Elaine Porter, soprano, from Lexington, will sing German songs by Schubert, Brahms and some Scottish tunes.

Nancy Wallace, University of New Hampshire, will play music by Norman Dello Joio and Mrs. Jeanne Porter will round out the program with piano music by Faure and Mendelssohn.

A free will offering will be taken. The public is invited and refreshments will be served.

Elaine Porter is a lyric soprano recitalist and church soloist. She has sung in many "reviews" including "Hello, Broadway" in Winchester in 1983. She is studying with Carolyn Kington of the New England Conservatory.

Gazza received her Bachelor of Music degree in piano performance from the University of Lowell and is a candidate for her master's degree at Boston Conservatory. She studied with Reginald Hache at Northeastern University, Michael Kramer of the University of Lowell and Christopher O'Riley at Boston Conservatory.

Wallace, a graduate of Andover High School, is a senior at the University of New Hampshire as a double major, piano and English. She is a former student of Jeanne Porter and presently studies with Ruth Edwards at the university.

Jeanne D. Porter, pianist, is a graduate student in piano performance coordinating Oberlin Conservatory of Music with the University of Colorado. She studies with Joseph Schwartz from the Oberlin Conservatory of Music and is a teacher and performer in Andover.

'Working'

"Working," a landmark musical based on the writings of Studs Terkel with music by Stephen Schwartz and James Taylor, will appear at the Merrimack Regional Theatre in Mahoney Hall on the south campus of the University of Lowell March 31-April 15. Performances are Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m., Sunday at 4 p.m. and Wednesday, April 4, at 2 p.m.

Special student matinees are scheduled at 11 a.m. on Thursday, April 5, and Wednesday, April 11. Tickets may be reserved at the theatre box office, Broadway and Wilder Streets, Lowell.

Before you pay your taxes for 1983 one of the most logical deductions you can make is to open a BayBanks IRA. You can contribute up to $2,000, and deduct that contribution on your 1983 Federal income tax return. So you'll pay less in Federal taxes. And your earnings are tax deferred until retirement when you may be in a lower tax bracket.

Better still, BayBanks offers you a full range of investment alternatives. From variable or fixed rate time deposits to our new Brokerage IRA, which allows you to invest in securities and manage your own retirement funds.

Local Student In Concert

Elizabeth Ann Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Larson, Salem Street, North Andover, will appear in a fundraising concert in Symphony Hall on Sunday, April 15, at 3 p.m. Benjamin Zander will conduct and Joseph Silverstein, concertmaster of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, will be the violin soloist. The program will include Mendelssohn's "Violin Concerto" and Mahler's "Symphony No. 4" with Cheryl Cobb, soprano. Proceeds from the concert will benefit the orchestra's spring tour of Austria, East Germany and Poland.

Larson is a violinist in the Youth Chamber Orchestra which is comprised of more than 60 high school students selected by audition from six New England states and has performed throughout the

New England area and on television. They have been invited to tour Poland and Austria by the Friendship Ambassador Foundation, a private, non-profit organization, established to promote a true cultural exchange between the youth of the United States and Communist countries. The orchestra has also been invited to tour the major cities of East Germany by the noted conductor Kurt Masur, music director of the Leipzig Gewandhaus Orchestra and frequent guest conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Plans for the three-week tour include concerts in Warsaw, Lublin, Krakow, Vienna, Florian, Salzburg, Bechtesgaden, Graz, Eisentadt, Berlin, Leipzig and Dresden.

'Roots' Author To Be Guest

Alex Haley, author of "Roots," will be the guest speaker for the second performance of the Tri-College Celebrity Series on Friday, March 23, at Denworth Hall, Bradford College, at 8 p.m.

After serving 20 years in the U.S. Coast Guard, Haley began a new career in 1959 as a freelance writer specializing in interviews with headline-making personalities. One of his subjects was the controversial Malcolm X with whom Haley wrote his first book, "The Autobiography of Malcolm X," selected as one of the ten best books in the 1960s and now required reading in most U.S. high schools and colleges.

Haley began a long, intensive research into his maternal family history, tracing his genealogy back 200 years and six generations. He discovered that his fourth great grandfather was Kunta Kinte, a youth of the Gambia, West Africa, who was kidnapped in 1767 and brought to the United States as a slave.

Haley's second book, "Roots," the result of this research, became the biggest best seller in U.S. publishing history. It has been translated into 37 languages and has sold more than six million hardcover copies. When "Roots" was filmed as a 12-hour television mini-series, running seven nights in January 1977, it drew more than 130 million viewers, the largest audience in TV history. He is currently at work on a book called "Henning" based on his experiences in that town in Tennessee where he grew up.

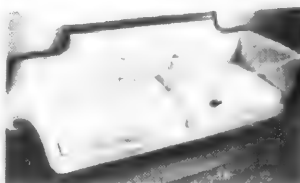

Haley has won the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award. He holds 17 honorary doctoral degrees and special recognition from more than 300 sources. "Time" magazine has called him a "folk hero" and "Roots" a cultural landmark.

The Tri-College Celebrity Series is co-sponsored by the alumni associations of Bradford College, Merrimack College and Northern Essex Community College. Edwin Newman, television correspondent for NBC-TV, will wrap up the series on April 27 at Merrimack College at 8 p.m.

For tickets, contact the alumni offices at the three colleges.

The flag of 1777 had no official arrangement for the stars. The most popular design had alternating rows of three, two, three, two and three stars. The flag with 13 stars in a circle was rarely used.

Network

rently one test site for the national program, so The Network is "keeping a foot on the home front," Crandall notes.

Another current project, the National Assistance Project for Special Education Technology (NAPSET), seeks to bring new educational technologies — microcomputers, electronic communication aids, video discs — to special education programs around the country. NAPSET, a three-year program funded by the U.S. Department of Education Special Education Programs Office, offers information, training, demonstrations of products, networking.

And, along with a San Francisco company, The Network has been awarded a National Institute of Education Contract for the National Adult Literacy Project, to "combat adult illiteracy," Crandall says. With that project, The Network will search the country for the most effective adult literacy programs available, and use what it finds to design new programs and disseminate techniques for teaching adults to read.

The Network also houses the New England Center of Equity Assistance, one of ten national centers established to help schools eliminate sex discrimination and stereotyping, McConkey says.

Drawing on its its experience in training adults, The Network is now branching out into the private sector as well, with a nutrition education program aimed at corporations. "NutriWork" will offer corporate employees information, tools and motivation to improve their eating habits; the pay-off for employers will be "a healthier, more productive work force," the director says.

There is another side to The Network, the executive director says, a research side that complements and nourishes its educational side. "We are unique in the mix of work that we do, in that we are constantly trying to straddle the education community and the research community, bridging across the two and serving as a link," Dr. Crandall says.

Working with other educational institutions, his company recently completed a major research project begun in 1978 to study efforts toward school improvement (official title: "The Study of Dissemination Efforts Supporting School Improvement")

Crandall spoke on the study last week at a national forum on educational reform in San Francisco. (Other participants at that conference included U.S. Secretary of Education Terrel Bell, and former Phillips Academy headmaster Theodore Sizer, who has recently directed a study of American high school education.)

Other recent studies, including a presidential commission's much-publicized "Nation at Risk" report of last year, have reached some grim conclusions about the state of education in America today. But The Network's study "paints a very different picture," Crandall notes — one that is far more encouraging. Success in the classroom is "elusive," he believes, "but it's present."

The study offers "concrete guidelines on what to do, and what not to do," to promote excellence in our schools, the executive director says: strategies for success. And it also tries to "communicate to school people that there is someone who knows how hard they're working, how much they're accomplishing, and how much more they could accomplish, with help."

McConkey points out that when he joined The Network in 1972, the average Massachusetts teacher was age 28; today, the average teacher is 38. Twelve years ago, he says, schools "were spending money for innovation"; today, schools are still struggling to deal with Proposition 2½.

Our teachers are veterans and "extremely competent," but they are tired, he says. "They need to be invigorated. They need new programs, new rewards. They need a fresh start."

Our current fascination with the more "flashy" aspects of computer education may be misguided, Crandall says: computers can be a helpful educational tool (as in QUILL), but schools "have too much on their plates right now" to worry about teaching programming skills, for instance. He would rather see schools concentrate on problems that can be solved. "We know how to teach kids how to read — it's crazy that we have kids coming out of school not knowing how to read."

The Network's founder hopes that in the years ahead, American education "will recognize the talent that it has, especially in the teaching ranks, and provide the necessary support for those people to recognize their professional potential." McConkey adds that helping adults to recognize their potential, "to transform and change their lives, is what we do best."

"It's fun work," the director says. Because the organization depends to a large extent on state and federal grants and contracts with school departments, Network staffers do not enjoy tremendous job security, he notes. But they do enjoy "a terrific place in which to work, a terrific professional environment."

The people who make up The Network do not wish to be a mysterious presence on South Main Street; townspeople are invited to drop in any time for a tour, and Dr. Crandall is considering a series of open houses later this spring, when his organization celebrates its fifteenth anniversary.

But even to those who work within its Victorian walls every day, Max McConkey says, The Network remains "an intriguing place."

Estate Planning Seminar

Bon Secours Hospital will again sponsor its Estate Planning Seminar on April 2 and 9 in the hospital's auditorium at 7 p.m.

Terry D. Mayo, president of T.D. Mayo Associates of Amherst, N.H., a professional estate planner of national reputation, will provide participants with information on wills, the probate process, federal and state taxes, gift taxes, ways to transfer assets, the use of trusts in estate planning, ways to be charitable and planning concepts under current laws. In addition to informal lectures and discussions, participants will receive handout materials.

The seminar is offered free of charge as a public service of the hospital. Seating is limited and interested individuals must pre-register to reserve seating by contacting Bon Secours Hospital's development department

On Dean's List

Brenda J. Glynn, Strawberry Hill Road, has been named to the dean's list at St. Michael's College, for the fall semester at the Vermont school.

Handicap Swimming Courses Set By Easter Seal Group

Ten-week swim programs for persons with disabilities will be held on the following schedule:

Pre-school at Phillips Academy starting Wednesday, April 4, from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Diane Sheehan, instructor.

Adults at Andover-North Andover YMCA starting Thursday, March 29, from 1:45 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Vicki Robb, instructor.

Children ages 5-17 at Andover-North Andover YMCA starting Sunday, April 1, from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Beth Morrissey, instructor.

These programs are sponsored by the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society and are supervised by water safety instructors.

Participants will be aided on a one-to-one basis by Easter Seal volunteers. "The swim program," said Yvonne McEvoy, chairman, "helps the children to develop swimming skills and gain confidence in the water while having fun."

Further information may be obtained from the Easter Seal Society's Northeast Office, 20 Ballard Road, Lawrence.

Volunteers with life-saving or water safety certificates are urgently needed. Anyone interested should contact the Easter Seal Society Northeast Office or Mrs. McEvoy, 43 Gage St., Methuen.

In Performance

Two local dancers took part in a special performance of the Northern Essex Community College resident dance troupe production at the State House in Boston this week.

Wayne Kanzaki, of Andover, and Joseph Savastano, of North Andover, participated in the Still Point Dance Company program which included modern jazz pieces and works about nuclear war, the survival of whales and three signed pieces for the deaf. State Sen. Nicholas J. Costello, (D-Third Essex) invited the dancers back for the second year. Costello's district includes North Andover.

In the future we may be able to kill weeds with microwaves that have no effect on crops or livestock.

Choke-Saver

The Heimlich Maneuver is the safe, simple and effective method to assist choking victims. Last year in Massachusetts dozens of lives were saved as quick-thinking men, women and children rushed to the aid of choking victims.

"Choking can happen to anyone at any time and we are encouraging Massachusetts residents to learn the Heimlich Maneuver to help prevent choking deaths."

Wallet-sized "Choke-Saver" instruction cards which show how to apply the Heimlich Maneuver are available, free of charge, from Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Massachusetts. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Health Thysell Choke-Saver, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Massachusetts, P.O. Box 1178, Boston 02103.

Sandra Anderson

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Anderson of Andover announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra, to Alfred V. Laurent Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred V. Laurent of Lowell.

Miss Anderson is a graduate of Andover High School and attended Northern Essex Community College, Haverhill. She is employed by Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Greater Lowell Regional Vocational Technical High School and is employed by D&P Trucking, Lowell.

A June wedding is planned.

Gardeners Plan For Season

As spring approaches, the Four Seasons Garden Club of Andover is getting busy with seasonal activities. Members planned "Foundation Planting and the Front of Your Home" in a slide show-demonstration presented by Barbara Webster, Andover landscape architect, at the club's March meeting.

The club will sponsor a workshop on growing perennials from seed, directed by Virginia Begg and Diane Butler, on March 22. Some of these perennials will be sold at the club's perennial sale, part of the annual Andover Recycling Sale, on May 19.

Planning is also underway for Four Season's major spring fundraiser, the plant sale at Pinewood Gardens in North Reading, on May 17. Proceeds from both plant sales benefit the club's civic beautification efforts in Andover, which include Memorial Hall Library and the Foster's Island Pond Nature Trail.

Members of the Four Seasons Garden Club will journey to the Garden-in-the-Woods in Framingham to view the renowned collection of American wildflowers. The club will purchase plant material to enhance the nature trail they maintain at Foster's Island Pond.

The Four Seasons Garden Club will also participate in the annual Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute Flower Show on April 28 and 29. Club members will assist behind the scenes in horticultural classification and the garden committee. Other members will be among the exhibitors.

Simmons Club Meets

The March meeting of the Merrimack Valley Simmons Club will be held Thursday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Barbara Eldering, 7 Gristone Road, Chelmsford. Barbara will show slides of one of her numerous hobbies, the study of mushrooms. Plans will be completed for the annual dinner meeting on April 26 and the club's attendance at Simmons Night at Pops in Boston on June 1. Ada Rosler and Nettie Rosler will be co-hostesses for the evening.

Selected Outstanding Young Woman

Cheryl Campbell of Andover Street, Ballardvale, has been selected for inclusion in the latest volume of "Outstanding Young Women in America."

She has been recognized for her impressive civic and social work, a brief account of which appears in the book. Since her marriage to Andover firefighter John Campbell, Cheryl, formerly of Melrose, has been active in community affairs. Membership in the Ballard Vale United Church, church school superintendent, Spar & Spindle, community committee, Brownie leader and room mother are a few of her contributions.

Campbell, a teacher's aide at the Ballardvale Preschool, is the mother of two children, Lisa Marie and Brent.

—ATTENTION—

We apologize that Michelle, due to the tremendous response, was unable to accommodate all of the requests for her February specials.

In appreciation, Michelle has suggested that we continue her specials through March so that she may give everyone another opportunity to take advantage of the super savings.

Accepts Award

Betsy Williams of Andover accepts the Trade Award of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society from Pat Pasieka of Acton during the annual Flower Show in Boston. The Trade Award is presented to a trade exhibit which is most pleasing to the eye and sets the highest standard of excellence in horticultural products. Williams' trade exhibit featured dried flowers and wreaths.

Antique Dolls To Be Discussed

Mrs. Gertrude Freedman of Boxford, well known lecturer and authority on antiques, will present a slide-talk program "Antique Dolls and Toys," at the Club House on Locke Street in Monday, March 26.

Freedman is associated with the North Shore Community College as well as the Wenham Museum. She believes that dolls and toys are mirrors of the past and she brings many mementoes of another era. Social hour at 1:15 p.m. is followed by a business meeting and program. Guests are welcome.

To Address College Club And Guests

Sharon Pollard, former local Senator and present Secretary of Energy and Conservation of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, will address the members of the College Club of Greater Lawrence and their guests at the March 27 meeting at the Lawrence Savings Bank, Shawsheen Square. The meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. with dessert, coffee, and a raffle for a gift certificate to Justin's Restaurant to benefit the Scholarship Fund.

Telerama

Merrimack Valley Chapter-March of Dimes Birth defects Foundation will present the 10th annual Greater Lawrence Telerama from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. from Methuen High School Auditorium on Continental Cablevision, CTV-3, to more than 21,000 subscribers in Methuen, Lawrence and North Andover.

Guy Anthony, talent coordinator, has lined up many great entertainers to perform. There will be many activities going on simultaneously: a mini-walk, dart tournament and a fashion show. The public is invited to attend the live performance.

Parish Renewal Scheduled

St. Augustine's parish renewal will be held from Monday, April 9, through Thursday, April 12.

Services each evening will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the upper church. Featured speakers for the first three days of this annual Lenten spiritual experience are John Clabeaux and Nina Lauzon, both of the Word of God Ministry. Clabeaux and Lauzon are well known in Andover as teachers who bring the Gospel to their listeners as a message always new, relevant and personal. Each evening's presentation will relate to the theme "Now God's Dwelling is With Us."

There will be a community reconciliation service on Thursday, the final night of the renewal. A bus for the elderly will be available every night, stopping for passengers at Frye Circle, Andover Commons, Chestnut Court, Grandview Terrace and Stowe Court.

Committees Preparing For Church Supper

The Friendly Circle of the Andover Baptist Church, under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Frederick Eastman and Mrs. John Gaudet, is preparing for their first Ham and Bean Supper in several years. It will be held Saturday, March 31, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the church vestry.

According to Mrs. Eastman and Mrs. Gaudet, the supper, an annual spring fundraising event until it was discontinued about three years ago, has been scheduled once again by popular demand.

The kitchen committee will be supervised by the co-chairpersons with assistance from Ruth Stocks, who served as chairperson of the supper committee in years past.

Members of the Friendly Circle and other members of the Andover Baptist Church "family" will help, baking pies, pouring coffee, waitressing or helping with clean-up.

Dorothy Gordon will be supervising waitresses and Linda Lounsbury will serve as dining room hostess. Al Evans and Rev. Reginald MacDonald, pastor, will pour coffee. Barbara Woodworth is in charge of decorations and Robin Abbott heads the pie committee.

The supper will be served family style with the traditional platters of ham, several varieties of homebaked beans, the Friendly Circle potato salad and cole slaw and hot rolls, relishes, homebaked pies and choice of beverages.

Carol Stocks will be in charge of tickets available in advance from members of the Friendly Circle or at the door.

Ministry Professor To Be Guest

Dr. Gwyn Walters, professor of Ministry at Gordon Conwell Theological Seminary will be the guest speaker at this Sunday's Evening Lenten Service at the Andover Baptist Church. The service will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Like Dr. William MacDonald, professor of theology at Gordon College, who spoke last Sunday evening, Dr. Walters lectured at the local church several times last year. He was born in Wales and still speaks with a delightful Welsh accent.

Dr. Walters will also be the guest speaker at the April 8 Lenten Service at the Andover Baptist Church.

Annual Breakfast At Church

The Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist Church, United Church of Christ) will have its annual breakfast for all girls, boys, coaches and their families who participated in this year's Andover Church League Basketball program at 8:30 a.m. in Shaw Fellowship Hall. The Ballard Vale

United church sponsored four teams with more than 40 boys and girls playing. This annual breakfast is a way of honoring all the players and expressing appreciation to the coaches and families who have supported the teams. The church's entry in the new girls' league won the championship.

Lenten Series Continues

The third in a series of Lenten services will be held at the Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist Church, United Church of Christ) on Tuesday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. The preaching theme for these services is the Beatitudes of Jesus. The Rev. Graham Ward, pastor of West Parish Church, is the preacher and his meditation will be "Blessed are the Humble." The community is invited.

students looking for summer positions should contact the office as soon as possible. For more information, contact the DCS office.

Seminar On Counseling Scheduled

"Self-Esteem and Self-Image: Gifts of Grace," a seminar on pastoral counseling, will be directed by Dr. Joseph T. Kelley, professor of religious studies, at Merrimack College in the faculty dining room (second floor) in Gildea Hall on March 22 at 7:30 p.m.

This seminar is second in a three-part series which is part of a new program in pastoral counseling sponsored by the National Center for Young Adult Ministry located at Merrimack.

The seminar will address aspects of Christian love, including clothing the naked, visiting the imprisoned and sick. But what if you yourself are hungry, naked and ill, prisoner of your own low esteem? This seminar considers the invitation to and responsibility for love of self inherent in the Christian's baptismal vocation.

Dr. Joseph T. Kelley, director of Journey - Pastoral Counseling Service, has studied at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C., and the Andover-Newton Theological School in Newton. He has lectured on the specific nature of pastoral counseling and has taught several courses within the religious studies department at Merrimack College.

Registration for the seminar will be taken at the door.

Food, Craft Lessons

Food and craft lessons will be available at eight morning courses sponsored by the Hay Scales Exchange, Johnson St., North Andover.

The consignment shop has scheduled the half-day classes for April and May. They are taught by Hay Scales members in their homes. "More Luscious Chocolate Desserts" will be taught on Wednesday, April 4; "Lebanese Cooking" is set for Thursday, April 5; "The Basket Case," a lesson in basket-making, will be demonstrated Monday, April 9. On Tuesday, April 10, "Low-Cal Entrees" will be offered. "Dutch Treats" will be taught on Thursday, April 12; and "Spring Centerpieces" is set for Tuesday, April 17. The final course, "Planning a Perennial Garden," is set for Thursday, May 24.

For course costs, times and registration call the Hay Scales.

First Child Course Offered By DCS

The birth of your first child brings joy and excitement to you and both of your families. It also brings many changes and additional stress. These changes and stresses are experienced by all new parents and there are constructive ways to cope with them. The Andover Department of Community Services will sponsor a workshop, "The First Child," on Tuesday, May 15, from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Jon Firger, L.I.C.S.W., of the Greater Lawrence Psychological Center, will discuss his experiences as a family therapist and new parent.

Writing Contest At Institute

Institute on Sunday, May 27, at which time prizes will be awarded. After graduation, the copyright to these stories will transfer automatically to the authors.

Fr. Lucius Annese, O.F.M., director of the Institute, presented an orientation overview of the total program to students and guests on Tuesday, March 6. Fr. Peter Casey, coordinator of the Family Life Apostolate of the Archdiocese of Boston, gave a keynote talk on concerns vital to the family. The course continues Tuesdays during March, April and May.

On Thursday, March 22, from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. Fr. Annese will teach the course on communication skills and will coordinate the seminar on the church at 7:15 p.m. Lisa Peattie, a professor at M.I.T., will speak on the subject of how people in a parish and locally can set up a peace program and other peace-related subjects. At 8:30 p.m. Kenneth R. Mahony, Andover Town Manager, will speak during a course on how the person of religious convictions should relate to government fellows. He will discuss the topic of local government.

To enter the writing contest, receive a catalog of courses, sign up for a course, be a volunteer, an associate member or a benefactor, write to Charisma Institute, P.O. Box 263, Andover, MA 01810.

Copies of the five winning stories will be made available to all who attend the graduation ceremony of The Charisma

The response from the people of the Merrimack Valley to the programs of the Charisma Institute of St. Francis has triggered the suggestion of a writing contest.

The Institute is looking for submissions of religious stories—not essays or strictly factual accounts—individually of a length of no more than 1000 words on 8½x11" sheets of paper double spaced, which are enlightening and inspiring and positive.

The judges will read these manuscripts for content, style and proper usage. Manuscripts will be returned if accompanied by a self-addressed and stamped envelope. Contestants must live in the Merrimack Valley or be students, speakers or coordinators of the Institute programs or be volunteers, associate members or benefactors of The Charisma Institute.

The deadline for submissions is April 30. Five winners will be announced on May 15. The first prize will be a full scholarship (a $500 value) to the program of The Charisma Institute. Second prize will be a half scholarship; third prize, a quarter scholarship; fourth prize, a $50 award; fifth prize, an associate membership.

Constance M. Poulios

Constance M. (Swett) Poulios of 29 Bower St., Lowell, died March 18 at Lowell General Hospital. She was 59.

Born in Lowell, Mrs. Poulios was employed as a media assistant in the University of Lowell media department. She had also worked as a laboratory technician at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lowell for 12 years. She belonged to St. Patrick's parish, and was a member of the Association of State, County and Municipal Employees of Massachusetts, as well as the East End Club.

She leaves her husband, Tarsy Poulios; two daughters, Gail Rogers of Wilson, N.C. and Constance Desruisseaux of Dracut; one son, Bruce Brown of Andover; eight grandchildren, and one great-grandson.

A funeral Mass was offered Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's Church. Burial was to be in Westlawn Cemetery. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the O'Donnell Funeral Home, 276 Pawtucket St., Lowell.

John Dana Hill

John Dana Hill of 261 High St., Somersworth, N.H., died unexpectedly March 18 at his home. He was 59.

Born in Concord, N.H., Mr. Hill had been a resident of Somersworth for seven years. He attended Andover schools, and graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy and Maine Maritime Academy. A World War II veteran who served with the U.S. Merchant Marine during the war, he was the former owner of two Andover businesses, Hill's Hardware Co. and Dana's Sport Shop.

He leaves his wife, Sonya (Wentz) Hill, three daughters, Christine Rodden of Andover, Karen James of Staten Island, N.Y., and Susan Hill of Lawrence; one sister, Christine Winship of Hanover, N.H.; two grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Private memorial services were held Wednesday afternoon at Roberge Funeral Home of Somersworth. Burial was to be in Christ Episcopal Cemetery, Andover, at a later date.

Memorial contributions may be made to the New Hampshire Heart Association, P.O. Box 1478, 2 Industrial Drive Park Concord, N.H. 03301.

America's first ice skating rink was built at New York's Madison Square Garden in 1879. It had 6,000 square feet of surface.

$25M, Six-Story West Andover Hotel Faces Zoning Hearing

By Susan Rand

Andover may be home to a $25 million hotel and convention center if the Zoning Board of Appeals gives the Florida developers of the 20-acre site a special permit and variance from town zoning laws at their Thursday, April 5 meeting, set for 7:30 p.m., in the second floor meeting room of the Memorial Hall Library, Elm Square.

Thomas Walsh's Ocean Properties, Ltd., of Boca Raton, Florida, hopes to construct a 300-room, six story hotel complete with a restaurant, lounge, convention and recreation facilities and a 125,000 square foot office building that will stand five stories tall. The buildings are to be developed on Old River Road, which is in the town's Industrial District.

And Larry Spiegel, chairman of Andover's Development and Industrial Committee told The Townsman that the construction, which has been in the planning stages for over a year, could begin as soon as the Zoning Board rules on the requests.

"I don't anticipate any problem," Spiegel said of the ZBA meeting. The convention center "is a use that is associated with the industry. And the property taxes will be incredibly good income for the town."

Spiegel said Walsh is hoping to lure industrial conventions from the nearby Andover companies. The site is on the east side of Rt. 93 and is across from the Wang building, he said. Walsh will pay for any needed road improvements near the site, said Spiegel. He also said that because the traffic pattern of the convention center is different from the nearby industry the development would have a "minimum impact on Rt. 93."

The 20-acre site is owned by the Arckwright Insurance Company, said Spiegel, who added that he did not know where the company is located. He did say that Walsh will buy the land from Arckwright.

Zoning Board members must basically consider two issues at their Thursday night meeting. The planned project is to be five stories tall, a most six feet, Spiegel said. And that is twenty feet taller than hotels are permitted to go in Andover. So Walsh seeks a variance on the height bylaw. The board must also consider a special permit request to put the hotel in an area that is zoned as an Industrial District.

Spiegel said he foresees no problem with either request. He added that a development like the one proposed is a natural in an industrial area.

"Industry has to have a place to put their people up," he explained.

Spiegel told The Townsman that renderings of the convention center show a red brick and glass facade. He added that sewerage from the site will not be a problem for Andover because it will flow along the Merrimack River trunk line to the sewerage treatment plant in North Andover.

Spiegel explained that the Development and Industrial Committee has been working with Walsh, helping him get to know Andover and its zoning regulations. He said that his committee assists new businesses that are thinking about coming into Andover.

Thomas Walsh is a familiar name in convention centers in the "Sun-Belt," said Spiegel. Walsh two-dozen luxury hotels in the Southeast and Southwest part of the country and is now completing a refurbishing of the Holiday Inn in Nashua, N.H. He has also just completed a hotel in Wales, Great Britain, said Spiegel who added that Walsh's decision to come to Andover was based on his desire to locate a convention center in a Northeast region.

Mahony Says Andover Cars, People Emulate Boston

Walking around downtown Andover has become "worth your life," and the town manager is ready to start taking traffic rules — for both drivers and pedestrians — a lot more seriously, he told the selectmen Monday night.

Andover drivers have taken to emulating their Boston brethren, Manager Kenneth Mahony said, by ignoring stop signs and no-turn signs, taking left-hand turns from right lanes and right-hand turns from left lanes, and double parking. Nor are pedestrians blameless, he added. Downtown jaywalking is a way of life.

Massachusetts residents may smile at anarchy on the roadways, but the manager said he believes the problem deserves Andover's serious attention because "someone's going to get hurt."

He proposed tougher enforcement of traffic laws for drivers and walkers, as soon as warmer weather arrives. Mahony said he has discussed the problem with Police Chief James Johnson, and a downtown foot patrol is a strong possibility — especially since a new meter maid, who will ticket illegally parked cars, will free an officer for downtown patrol as of July 1.

"The only purpose of this is safety," the manager emphasized.

The selectmen agreed with Mahony, but some habits may die hard: Selectman William Dalton, for one, could not quite be convinced that driving across Main Street from Central Street (where right turns onto Main are now forbidden) to reach Post Office Avenue isn't legitimate.

Goodbye To Winter

The mini nursery at St. Roberts' Country Day School said goodbye to winter and a hopeful hello to warmer weather with a party on the last day of winter. Using their imagination, teachers and students dressed up in summer clothing, spread their blankets and set up their beach chairs and umbrellas on the hall floor. The event included storytelling, games, snacking and relaxing under a make-believe sun. Photos clockwise from upper left: Allyson Riccio, three, of Methuen, plays with sand; Four-year-old David St. Jean of Tewksbury enjoys a little fishing; Scott Becker, four, of Tewksbury gets his camera ready to capture the party on film; Four-year-old Megan Burke of Parthenon Circle takes time out for a snack; Gail Dispensa of Haggetts Pond Road puts everybody in the mood with a summertime story.

Long And Lean Becomes The Fashion Look For Spring, Summer

By Susan Rand

Long and lean is the fashion look this spring with jackets and skirts reaching new lengths as they cut silhouettes reminiscent of the 1920's and 1930's.

The focus of both sportswear and more formal spring and summer clothes will be long jackets or tunic tops. When paired with suits, the jackets will be both soft, unconstructed designs— with sleeves that can be pushed towards the elbow, or padded business-like designs. Many of the spring suits will feature double-breasted jackets and fun details like epaulets and brass buttons.

This warmer line of clothing will be designed in soft, neutral colors. All shades of beige and off-white— called everything from biscuit to brick, will be seen in the stores in the coming weeks. Complementing those easy-to-match colors will be creamy pastel colored separates and accessories. Sheer white and off-white stockings, which gained prominence last spring, are still the most popular of the leg looks for spring and summer.

The monochromatic colors featured in many of the spring suits and dresses contrast with the new, bolder sportswear separates. Fun clothes for the summer will feature white nautical-fashioned clothing. Making waves will be large stripes and bold primary colors on white backgrounds. Cropped pants and short tops will be the rage this summer.

And while jackets and skirts are longer this spring the summer bathing suits are skimpier than ever. The one-piece suit is still the most popular in area shops but many one-piece bathing suits are looking more like two-piecers. High-cut legs, plunging fronts and backs and all types of side cut-outs will be prominent in the summer's beach-wear. As in sportswear, primary white or black backgrounds will be featured on the bathing suits. Tropical prints and large floral designs will also be popular.

Jewelry to complement the new styles will be much like last year's summer stock. Large chunky necklaces, bracelets and earrings will highlight the new fashions. And shoes will take on a new look as textures begin to play an important part in footwear. All types of perforations will be key to the styles of the ever-popular low pumps and the newer popular high heels in bright colors.

Old Clothes Can Be Revitalized Easily

Revitalizing a closet full of old clothes from past seasons may be easier than you think. The key to an inexpensive makeover of your clothes is an open mind and a bit of creativity.

All your one-look outfits and casual separate pieces can be mixed and matched some imaginative layering. The backbone of any working woman's wardrobe is a neutral suit consisting of a skirt and jacket in colors such as black, navy or tan. If you do not own a suit it may be worth the major investment.

With a suit there is the obvious skirt, blouse and jacket combination. But the skirt may work without the jacket and some of the clothes you already own. For instance, try wearing a shirt as a jacket, a straight-cut linen or rayon shirt, unbuttoned, can double over another blouse and give you a second jacket to compliment the skirt from your suit. Now take that same look and add a wide leather belt over both the blouse and skirt, that is doubling as a jacket, for a more pulled together look.

The same outfit can be taken a step further, for a more summery look, if you wear a cotton tank top under the shirt-jacket. Try that look both belted and unbelted.

A plain shirtdress can also be transformed from its usual one-look item. Try wearing the dress, unbuttoned, over a skirt and blouse, as a long jacket. A shirtdress can also be worn over pants and a tee shirt to pull the outfit together. The same dress may also be dressed-up with a variety of different belts. A wide leather belt or two or three thin different color belts will give the dress a whole new look.

Remember color plays an important part in creating a professional, pulled-together look. As a rule don't buy clothing that is both patterned and a bright color. If you want pattern—settle for a neutral color, that way you can add a bright piece to the outfit. And if you find a bright piece you must have make sure it is a solid color and cut simply.

Accessories such as hats and jewelry will also have a big effect on the look you are trying to create. Try adding a cotton knit vest to a skirt and jacket or pull the vest over a shirtdress and add a belt. A scarf, knotted at the neck, and worn under a jacket, or worn tied behind the neck, with a triangle in front, western-style, is also a nice addition to a neutral outfit.

The Professional Look For Executive Women

The 10,000 women emerging yearly from graduate schools of business will help break new ground in management.

They can also be expected to break some rules of fashion and merchandising. Their code of dress is still evolving, but with central canons set.

As women assume managerial places once reserved for men, the question arises as to whether they are assuming men's clothing modes, too. Says a young woman M.B.A. at a New York investment-banking firm, "I always wear a suit. No one's ever written a dress code, but certainly men are required to wear suits and successful ones always wear a dark suit with red striped tie. If they have to do it, I should too."

If women are the fashion clones of their male bosses, many argue, it is in self defense. convention does not threaten.

"You have to have some rules," comments Phyllis Albertson, vice president of Associated Merchandising, a consultant group for many major department stores. "But if women are in successful positions and feel confident, they will express their individuality in their clothing."

What else is the professional woman conveying?

"She wears what I call authority clothing," suggest Joan Karron of J.P. Stevens. The style "emanates a presence, some kind of dignity and authority that commands the attention of whomever you're dealing with at a business level."

Typically, the women seen by one clothing consultant "don't want to be fashion plates. They want to look appropriately fashionable, but they do not want to seem avant-garde. They do not want the clothes to wear them."

Getting The Hands In Shape After Winter

Getting your hands into shape for summer is no easy task. They have been subjected to the rigors of a cold winter and are no doubt dry and chapped. After months inside winter gloves its time for some pampering. Follow these easy tips to get your hands and nails back into shape for the new spring nail fashions.

- First remove any old nail polish.
- Gently shape nails with an emery board or diamond dust file, taking care to keep the file flush against your nails.
- Soak your fingertips in warm, soapy water for five minutes or so to soften cuticles, then pat dry.
- Brush on a cuticle remover to soften and clean cuticles.
- Clean under each nail with a cuticle knife, carefully removing dead skin.
- Then with a cuticle clipper trim cuticles.
- Next paint on a base coat of polish to strengthen nails. If you add a colored polish apply two coats and give your nails at least an hour to dry thoroughly.
- Throughout the day make it a habit to rub a non-greasy hand-lotion over your hands. Keep a tube of lotion by the sink and use it right after you wash your hands. If you work, keep another lotion supply at work. Hand-lotion in your car is another good idea. And remember— rubber gloves are a must for washing dishes.
- For a special treatment every week or so treat you nails to olive oil. First heat the oil in a double boiler until it is warm— not hot! Gently rub the oil into hands, nails and cuticles. Rinse off after a few minutes and apply hand lotion.

Tips On Seasonal Pack And Unpacking

It's almost time to store away all your winter clothes and unpack the spring and summer things. In these last few weeks of cold weather why not get your winter gear ready to pack away.

Start by repairing rips, tears and zippers. Sew on all the buttons that are loose or missing before they get misplaced. Check department stores for sales on boot trees to use for packing winter boots and look for sales on padded or molded hangers too. Also pick up a few packages of moth crystals or balls.

Put clothes away clean. Some stains, allowed to set for a period of months may never wash out. And after washing or professionally cleaning garments make sure they are dry when put away. Take the plastic off dry-cleaned clothes so there won't be a moisture buildup that causes mildew to form on the clothing.

Moth crystals and balls shouldn't be placed directly on clothing. Keep them tucked away in corners or in the net bags they come packaged in. In any case be sure and follow the directions on the product.

And when putting the clothes away take care to fold almost everything, with the exception of coats and jackets, these should be hung on the padded hangers you have purchased. Skirts may also be hung on clip-type hangers if space permits.

When storing fragile sweaters and handmade or beaded clothes wrap them in tissue paper to keep them separate. A cashmere sweater doesn't need to be stretched by a hook and eye from another garment.

If it is possible clean the space you will be using to store your winter clothes. Perhaps that will involve re-lining a few drawers in a spare dresser or making more space in the cedar closet. If you are looking for additional space why not invest in storage boxes from a professional cleaner?

The only garment you may want to store away from home is a fur. Take care to have the fur cleaned and stored at a local fur shop.

The attractive rosewood that is seen often in fine furniture does not come from rose plants. It's the name of several types of wood of the botanical genus Dalbergia.

Tips To Help You Charm The Camera

That important photo session is coming up and you want to look your best. Wear simple, comfortable clothing with a neckline that will complement your face. Avoid manish tailoring, as it tends to project a 'stiff' look, and big prints and plaids that will take away from your features. Keep jewelry to a minimum.

Don't overdo make-up, as camera lenses are very sensitive and thick bases will show. Magazine covers now feature a look with minimal make-up. Avoid oranges to make-up for color photos; choose eye shadow to harmonize with your clothing and coat the lashes with black mascara and curl.

Schedule photography for morning, if possible, and have a good night's sleep the night before.

An Article Unwarranted

A cursory glance at the annual town meeting warrant article 45, would probably indicate an unimportant correction in punctuation, when in actuality it has, in a considered opinion a deleterious effect on Andover's downtown area.

The article, if approved, would require any new construction in the central business district, including renovations and alterations, to provide parking spaces for a prescribed amount of developed square footage.

No longer could a developer or business owner be able to use available parking spaces in the area as a credit toward the proposed new construction or alterations.

Frankly, such a bylaw stifles development and improvement of the central business district, and, in particular, the Park street area which is on the threshold of not only new construction, but improvements by individual property owners.

The matter comes before town meeting again this year through the efforts of the planning board. Defeated at town meeting a year ago, its presence in the warrant this year is due to planning board insertion. Bylaws prohibit introduction of defeated articles to a subsequent town meeting for a period, with the exception of those proffered by the planning board.

It is understandable that the planners may have considered this necessary. Appearance of a similar article in last year's town meeting was prompted no doubt by another developer within the downtown area, who had taken advantage of parking credits to add to an existing business development.

But, it is in fact, even in that case, an improper manner in which to address parking problems in Andover.

The intent of the bylaw, while possibly having some merit, still represents a step backwards in the development of a modern downtown area for Andover.

Examine, for a moment, the Park street area. Already there is a shopping mall proposed which would abut the new municipal parking area. To compel that developer to produce his own parking areas for the mall would be first, an impossibility, and secondly result in an important piece of business property probably lying fallow forever.

There are reports of business blocks being sold along the same street and most assuredly the famed Krinsky salvage yard will one day become another type business property.

For such development to succeed, parking is necessary, and it is no more town-subsidized through the new municipal parking area, than is any other business or commercial venture in the community.

Parking in downtown Andover has been a problem for many years and will continue to be. Providing funds for the acquisition of the Heartland property a year ago at town meeting was the first such action by town meeting in many years. Past requests for such consideration in other areas of town by merchants and municipal officials have been denied by voters at town meeting.

Some people continue to complain about the inability to find a parking space in downtown Andover. But, the complaint would seem to center more around the fact that the shopper or visitor is unable to park directly in front of the store in which they intend to make a purchase. The same person would walk the distance from Elm Square to Olde Andover Village, if the visit was to a shopping mall. And, without complaint.

But the basic reason Article 45 should be defeated at town meeting, simply stated, is it hinders development and improvement of the downtown area. Allow downtown Andover to continue to progress, as a modern community should, without deterrent from stifling regulation.

Youngsters bundle papers for recyclers

Appreciative

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

The board of directors of Andover Recycling, Inc. wishes to thank Superintendent Seifert, principals, teachers and students involved in the project to recycle the three days' papers sent to each elementary student by the Lawrence Eagle Tribune as part of Newspaper in Education Week. A special thanks must be given to our trucker, Francis P. Reilly, who picked up the papers at the schools where the students had prepared them for recycling. This recycling project was the inspiration of Mrs. Tina Girdwood, who was amazed by the overwhelming enthusiasm of the teachers and students for turning a learning experience into a significant boost to the town recycling program. It is this sort of response which makes Andover's recycling program so successful and well-known throughout the Northeast.

Goodwill

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

How beneficial it may have been had even one tenth of the effort put forth for a school prayer bill been used to seek understanding of why such prayer is out of place under the Constitution.

The few understand it even now, that document seeks harmony among mankind, their civil society and their nations so that even prayer is superfluous. Consider this.

The Preamble of the Constitution, really an improved statement of the Declaration of Independence, covers all the activity that concerns a government ordained and established to "...secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

Nowhere does it mention prayer or allude to prayer let alone mention a Christian God or any other god. That was no accident. The world then, as now, was full of them.

In short, the inspiration that mothered the Constitution was unique. If a few words can describe that force, consider these

Tucker Warns Selectmen About MDC Taking Valley Water

The question of the decade in Massachusetts may well be, "Where will Boston and the Metropolitan District Commission get their water?" State Rep. Sue Tucker told the selectmen Monday night — and the answer to that question could have serious implications for the Merrimack Valley.

"Water is going to be a tremendous problem in Massachusetts," the representative said, as Boston and other MDC communities face a troubling water shortage in the years ahead.

Tucker said she is "very fearful" that Boston will turn to the Merrimack River as their best source of water, because the cities and towns in the valley have "planned well" and are "protected" from a water crisis of their own.

The state community development office recently turned down a local request for an "important" $25,000 watershed planning grant, Tucker said, but at least half of that money may be available next year if the town is willing to appropriate $6,000 in matching funds. (Town Manager Kenneth Mahony offered the good news that that money has already been budgeted in the town's master planning article: "It's there.")

In other comments before the board this week, Rep. Tucker said Andover officials might be interested in current efforts to separate commercial properties from industrial properties in the state's classification definitions.

Classification (taxing different types of properties at different rates) has "never been an option in Andover" because town officials have feared that increasing industrial tax rates would hurt small businesses, Tucker said. Moving small businesses into the residential category might be one solution that could give communities "more flexibility" in considering classification, she noted.

No change is afoot this year, she said, but she advised the selectmen to make their opinion known if they are interested in changing classification laws next year.

Tucker also discussed possible changes in state aid to local school systems — an issue she recently took up with the School Committee — repeating her caution that Andover may be in danger of losing aid money because its schools are well managed. (State legislators are considering sending more money to schools in trouble, to "equalize" education throughout the state.)

"We are going to be handing over our dollars in a big way," she told the board.

Selectmen Chairman Gerald Silverman told the state rep. that Andover's "key" concern at the moment is winning state funding for a new Riverina Road sewage pumping station. Town meeting will be asked to appropriate $6.7 million to pay for that station.

And board members noted that after attending a recent conference with state lawmakers, they have learned the catchword of the year: "infra-structure." The selectmen laughed, but Tucker pointed out that some of Andover's major problems are "infra-structure" problems, including the pumping station and a Lowell Junction interchange.

Nursing Home Is Planning Expansion

By Susan Rand

The Academy Nursing Home hopes to more than double its occupancy and a representative of the 89 Morton St. facility will meet with the Zoning Board of Appeals to take the first steps toward building the proposed $4 million addition.

The project will take from six to eight months and begin a year from now according to Academy Administrator David Solomont. But approval from various state and local boards have slowed the progress of the project which Solomont began in the fall of 1982.

Before a nursing home may build an addition, Solomont explained, the Massachusetts Public Health Council and the Merrimack Valley Health Planning Council must determine whether there is a need for more beds at the facility in question. Having completed those hurdles, with a special permit in hand from the Zoning Board that he received in June of 1982, Solomont said he would ask for a renewal of the permit on Thursday, April 5, at 7:30 p.m., at the Zoning Board of Appeals meeting scheduled for the second floor meeting room at the Memorial Hall Library, Elm Square. Solomont said the permit he now has for the project will expire in June of this year.

There are no final plans for the 40,000 square foot, two-story addition, which is being designed by Andover architect Dick Landry. Solomont said Landry's plans must be approved by the state Department of Public Health's architecture board.

The new wing will house 90 residents. There are now 87 persons living at the Academy home.

Solomont, who has been the nursing home administrator for nine years, said the community needed the proposed addition. "I may have to live in a nursing home some day and I would like to build a home I would be comfortable in."

Developers Given Deadline On Work

Developers will be given a June 30 deadline for bringing ten streets up to Andover's standards before those streets will be accepted as public roadways, the selectmen decided Monday night.

The selectmen must "lay out" the streets — that is, present them to town meeting — for voters' approval.

Public Works Director Robert McQuade said Monday night that "very minor work" remains uncompleted on several of the streets, but the developers will not be asked to finish the work by the time town meeting convenes on April 2. Instead, the selectmen may agree to lay out the streets on the condition that all work is completed by June 30.

McQuade said minor work needs to be done on Cheyenne Circle, Apache Avenue, Wabanaki Way, Shawnee Circle, Sioux Circle and Penacook Place, all within the Indian Ridge Estates subdivision.

He recommended that the selectmen not lay out Alonesos Way, part of Lovejoy Estates, and Smithshire Estates Extension, where he said more serious problems exist.

A representative of Winchester Development Corp. told the board Smithshire Estates would be withdrawn from the warrant on the floor of town meeting.

McQuade did not mention three other street acceptances that appear on the warrant: Penni Lane, Parthenon Way and Pole Hill Drive.

The selectmen will meet with the DPW director at 6:30 Monday night, April 2, before town meeting gets underway, to review the condition of the streets.

Gymnastics Meet

The Department of Community Services held their ninth annual Elementary School Gymnastics Meet, March 19, 20 and 21 at the high school gym. Grades one and two competed on the first day, three and four on the second day and five and six on the third. The gym was filled with family and friends Monday night as 76 first and second graders from Bancroft, Sanborn and West Elementary competed in five events. Photos clockwise from upper left: Seven-year-old Lenore Mullett, of Paulornette Circle, a student at the West performs her floor exercise routine; Brad Drabec, eight, a second-grader at West makes strong effort in rope exercise while Peter Comeau holds the rope steady and Sharon French keeps his time; Six-year-old Amy Baker, a first grader at West demonstrates her form on the beam; First-grader Lee Munger, of Lowell Street holds on tight under the watchful eyes of the spotter, Jeff Shupe.

St. Robert's Perfect On Season

By Rick Harrison

Having already clinched the division championship a week earlier, St. Robert's B completed a perfect 10-0 season with a 30-15 victory over South A in recent Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold Division action at the West Elementary School gym.

In other season-ending play, runnerup St. Augustine's A (8-2) stopped St. Robert's C 32-16 and four-time defending champ West Parish handled St. Robert's A 26-16.

Paul DeMarco of St. Robert's B won the division scoring title with 119 points, while John Russell of St. Augustine A finished second with 108 points.

St. Augustine's A, 32-16

John Russell and Scott Lanouette led a third-period burst by St. Augustine's A, netting four points apiece, as the winners broke open a tight game with a 10-2 run.

St. Robert's C led 7-6 after one period and St. Augustine's A was clinging to a slim 12-10 halftime advantage before the pivotal third-quarter surge. A 10-4 fourth-quarter run put the game away for good.

Russell led the balanced SAA charge with 8 points, Scott Lanouette and Erik Guzowski added 6 points apiece, Peter Caruso and Steffan Tomlinson 4 each, Mike LeBreck 2 and Jose Guerra 2.

Matt Perry sparked SRC with 7 points, Patrick Hayes hooped 4, Dan Fay 3 and Mike Hein 2.

Jason Blandini, Tim Martin and Dave Carriere also played well for St. Robert's C.

West Parish, 26-16

The four-time defending champs, playing without top corer Pat Kelley, erased a two-point fourth-quarter deficit with a decisive 14-2 burst enroute to the triumph.

Chris Lane notched 5 points, including 3-of-4 from the free throw line, while Keith Abernathy tossed in 4 points and Stefan Kelly pocketed three foul shots to spark the West Parish rally.

St. Robert's A had used an 8-5 third-period run to inch ahead 14-12, but then Lane, Abernathy & Co. took control.

Lane paced all marksmen with 10 points, Abernathy contributed 9, Kelly 5 and Dave Carnes a fourth-quarter bucket.

John Glynn and Chris Kew also played well for West Parish.

Brett Hammond was SRA's top sharpshooter with 6 points, followed by John Mattola with 4, Marc Selvitelli 2, Tod Musteraid 2 and Paul Salafia converted a pair of free throws. Steve Knight, Eric Hammond and Ryan Beal also played well for St. Robert's A.

St. Robert's B, 30-15

The champs protected their perfect record by outscoring South A in every quartr, St. Robert's B leading 7-6, 17-9 and 25-14 at the first three period breaks.

James Spinelli and Paul DeMarco shared game-high coring honors with 9 apiece, Mike Faraci hooped 4, James Murphy 4, Mike Smith 2 and Steve Spinelli 2.

Completing the roster of the championship squad are Brendan McGrail, Jeff Brodie, Brad Reghitto and Jerome Guerard.

Chris Eggert returned to the South A lineup after missing several games with an njury, picking up where he left off by leading the eam with six points.

A.J. Boutin and Jim Hendry chipped in four points each, Dana Orlando swished a third-quarter free throw and defensive standouts included Dan Ferris, Doug Howes and Scott Clementi.

Three Tops In Foul Shooting

Brendan Sharkey, John Russell and Chris Poor won the annual foul shooting contests in the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Blue and Gold and Senior Division competition last week at the West Junior High gym.

Each participant took 40 free throws and trophies will be awarded to the top two finishers in each division.

Sharkey of St. Augustine's D converted 30-of-40 shots to far outdistance the field in Blue Division competition.

Dan French of St. Robert's E, Mark Green and Mark Shwetz, both of St. Robert's F, tied for second place with 23 each.

Rounding out the top players who hit 35 percent or better were Rob Labell of Temple Emanuel (20), Billy Batchelder of South B (18), Chris Lowe of Ballardvale United (17), Scott Goddess of Temple Emanuel (17), Pete Van Olinda of St. Robert's F (16), Mark Leinson of Temple Emanuel (16) and Paul Lembo of St. Augustine's B (16).

Russell of St. Augustine's A finished first and Chris Eggert of South A was second in the Gold Division competition.

Russell netted 31-of-40 (77 percent) attempts while Eggert was close behind with 29.

Other high scorers were defending champion Brad Reghitto of St. Robert's B (25), Patrick Hayes of St. Robert's C (25), Scott Clementi of South A (24), A.J. Boutin of South A (23), Matt Perry of St. Robert's C (21), Matt Orlando of South A (21), Danny Fay of St. Robert's C (21), Jerome Guerard of St. Robert's B (20), John Glynn of West Parish (20), Steve Spinelli of St. Robert's B (19), Todd Musterait of St. Robert's A (19), Dave Carriere of St. Robert's C (18), Paul DeMarco of St. Robert's B (16), Scott Lanouette of St. Augustine's A (16), Mike Smith of St. Robert's (16), Steffan Tomlinson of St. Augustine's A (16) and Dana Orlando of South A (15).

Poor of West Parish captured first place by converting 29-of-40 shots while teammate Mike DiMeo was runnerup with 27 in the Senior Division competition.

Other top scorers were Larry Aiello of West Parish (25), Mark Leinson of Temple Emanuel (20) and Eric Green of St. Robert's A (19).

Junior Cheerleading Registration

Registration for the Andover Junior Football League Cheerleading program will be held Saturday, March 31, at West Junior High from 12 noon to 4 p.m. Girls who will be 10 years old by September 1 and up to and including those who will enter eighth grade in September are eligible. Phone for reservations to the Merrill Lynch Seminar "How to Manage Your Money in Today's Changing Economy". It's free, but seating is limited, so act today.

Not just another lecture

This Seminar is your chance to learn better ways to invest your money from professionals. Absolutely free.

Some topics we'll cover: What to do with money you want to keep safe. How to get high interest without tying up your money. An investment you should avoid if you're in a high tax bracket. And more.

You'll also receive a free copy of Investments For a Changing Economy — a 16-page booklet with facts and figures to help you decide which investments you should choose and avoid — right now.

Change brings opportunities

The past year can be summed up in one word: change. The way to go might be stocks one day, Treasury Bills the next. Or an investment tactic you've never heard of before.

But this flurry of change has also brought new opportunities. For high interest. Growth. Steady income. And for small investors to participate in markets that had never before been available to them.

Here's how to be sure you can attend this important seminar. Phone (617) 273-2000 for reserved seats. Do it now and be sure there's a place for you.

West Sons Edge Dads In O.T.

By Rick Harrison

In one of the most spectacular installments of a long and thrilling series, the West Parish team of the Andover Church Basketball League's Senior Division (13-15 years) pulled out a dramatic 65-62 double overtime victory over a squad of seasoned veterans and "ringers" in the club's annual Father-Son extravaganza last weekend at the West Junior High gym.

The come-from-behind victory enabled the ACBL senior champs to maintain their undefeated status this season and left the bewildered Dads still searching for their first-ever victory in this long and illustrious series.

The Fathers' team was comprised of Larry Aiello Sr., Charlie Poor, John Carew, Jim Andry and Don Nickerson, along with ringers Shane Smith, Kurt Burzlaff and Greg "Perpetual Motion" Poor.

Competing for the sons were Chris Poor, Ted Andry, Larry Aiello, Mike DiMeo, Dave Curtis, Scott Kelly, Jamie Carew, Matt Burke, Kurt Nickerson and Nick Coon.

The Fathers jumped to a quick 8-2 lead behind the sharp-shooting of Smith, Burzlaff and the Poor connection, but the Sons battled back to trail only 12-10 after one period as buckets by Poor, Kelly, Carew and DiMeo led the comeback.

The seasoned veterans maintained a slim 21-18 halftime lead after baskets by Jim Andry, Burzlaff and the Poor connection.

Curtis and Andry kept the Sons close with three points apiece in the second stanza.

Smith and Burzlaff combined for all 12 Fathers' points in the third quarter, interspersing their baskets among long-range missiles by Carew, Nickerson, Poor and Andry that failed to find the basket.

The Sons retaliated with 14 points of their own to cut the deficit to 33-32, fieldgoals netted by Nickerson, Burke, Andry, Curtis and Poor.

Curtis and Aiello also swished a pair of free throws apiece, and in the end it was the charity stripe that spelled the difference.

The Sons outpointed the old men 24-23 in the fast-paced fourth quarter, leaving the game deadlocked 56-56 at the end of regulation time.

Aiello led the Sons' attack in the fourth period with 9 points, Kelly scored 5 and handed out several nice assists. DiMeo had 4 and key buckets were added by Burke, Nickerson and Poor.

Smith went wild for the Fathers, pouring through 17 points in the quarter, while Burzlaff contributed four.

The bitter rivals traded points in the first three-minute overtime. Poor and Aiello Sr. connecting for the veterans to offset baskets by Mike DiMeo and Ted Andry.

It was 60-60 entering the second three-minute OT and that was where the Sons finally pulled it out on baskets by Aiello, DiMeo and a free throw by Poor.

Aiello led the balanced Sons' offense with 13 points, DiMeo added 10, Poor 9, Kelly 7, Curtis 7, Andry 7, Carew 4, Burke 4 and Nickerson 4.

Smith was game-high for the veterans while Burzlaff netted 14, Charlie Poor 7, Greg Poor 6, Aiello 4 and Andry 2.

The winners held a decisive 11-2 edge from the free throw line.

Among the uninterested spectators were West Parish alumni Steve Redgate, Rich Dunn and Jeff Kennedy, along with Mr. and Mrs. Michael DiMeo and Mrs. Lawrence Aiello.

Trophies

Several individual awards were also presented to West Parish players in recognition of their achievements during the 1983-84 season, during which West Parish went undefeated enroute to the ACBL Senior championship for the second straight year.

Larry Aiello was chosen team MVP by vote of his teammates and received a plaque as the club's high scorer (150 points, 16.6 average).

Dave Curtis, Ted Andry and Jamie Carew were tri-winners of the Most Improved Player award, as voted by their teammates.

Scott Kelly received the Sixth Man award for performance above and beyond what was expected.

Mike DiMeo was given the Unsung Hero trophy for sparking the champs to several victories in key games.

Chris Poor was presented the coaches Award for combined excellence in all phases of the game.

Craig Costanzo earned the Rookie-of-the-Year award for his performance as a 13-year-old playing his first season in the Senior Division.

West Parish will wrap up its successful season on March 29 with the annual team excursion to Boston for pizza at the European Restaurant and attendance at the Boston Bruins game that night.

Swimmers Capture Regional Medals

Jenny Thompson and the boys' B medley relay team of Bill Watt, Brian Cronin, Tom Graham and David Flanders of the Andover-North Andover YMCA swim team captured first-place medals at the New England Regional Swimming and Diving championships last weekend at Brown University, Providence, R.I.

Thompson won the 50 yard butterfly, 100 yard freestyle and 50 yard backstroke, setting New England region records in the butterfly and backstroke.

The medley relay team led from the start as Watt touched in a blanket finish at the end of the backstroke leg. Cronin, swimming breaststroke, gave butterflyer Graham a yard lead which he extended giving freestyle anchorman Flanders a two-yard lead.

Each member of the relay also placed in individual events. Flanders placed fifth in the 50 free, 100 free and 100 back; Graham was eighth in the 200 free. Cronin and Watt were ninth in the breaststroke and backstroke, respectively. Adam Siegel was 12th in the breaststroke and swam on the second place free relay with Cronin, Watt and Graham. J.B. Burgess was seventh in diving.

Danielle Graham was sixth in the 100 freestyle and eighth in the 100 yard I.M. The freestyle relay team of Hilary Driscoll, Jennifer Munro, Graham and Thompson placed third. Kristen, Hubbell, Griscoli, Allyson Pollier and Munro were 11th in the medley relay as the D girls finished third overall.

Michael Sullivan was fourth in the breaststroke while the medley and free relay teams of Sullivan, Kevin Driscoll, Matt Jennings and Sean Herlihy were ninth for the Class D boys.

In Class E Andre Koerckel was third in the 50 free and sixth in the I.M. while Reed Newland was ninth in the 50 free. They teamed with Darrin Kimball and Johnny Dwight for a third-place finish in the free relay.

Coleen Hayes was seventh in the diving competition for the Class C girls. She joined teammates Erin Croft, Katie Sullivan and Kim Marrah for a ninth-place finish in the medley relay.

Matt MacVicar was second in diving and tenth in the breaststroke in Class C while Dan Lennon was third in diving. MacVicar swam on the third-place medley relay team with Marc Murphy, Chris Hart and John Driscoll.

The Class B girls medley relay team of Michele Fox, Amy Ford, Kathy Savage and Shawna Newland was seventh. Newland was fifth in the I.M., sixth in the 50 free and ninth in the butterfly while the free relay team of Debbie Rice, Savage, Krista Carney and Ford was 11th.

The Class A men's medley relay of Gregg Morava, Eric Bebbick, Tom Jurgen and Aaron Thompson was fourth and were ninth in the free relay. Thompson was third in the 50 free.

The A girls free relay of Abby Robb, Kara Hanon, Amy Brown and Cathy Smith finished fifth while Robb was 11th in the 100 yard butterfly.

The ANA swim team is in training for the YMCA National Championships in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in April.

St. Robert's Wins Two Titles

The St. Robert's of Andover eighth grade boys team scored a double championship this past weekend in Lawrence and Derry, N.H.

They won the third annual Central Catholic Tournament with wins against the North Andover Boosters 49-45 in the preliminary game and a 64-65 triumph over St. Joseph's of Salem, N.H., in the championship game.

Michael Lane was the high scorer in the game against North Andover with 21 points, John Perry had 13, Chris Concemi, Bill O'Brien and Mark Russell had strong games on the boards. Concemi also had eight blocked shots. Steve Napolitano and Scott Wallace had numerous steals and assists. It was a strong team effort.

The championship game pitted the co-leaders of the Lawrence Boys Club, St. Robert's and St. Joseph's against each for the Division A title. Thanks to the hot scoring of John Perry and Mike Lane, St. Robert's took an 18-11 lead at the end of the first quarter. Early foul trouble for Concemi and O'Brien led to great rebound efforts by Russell and Matt Fardy. Wallace and Napolitano turned in strong games at mid-court. John Perry and Mike Lane scored 27 points each for the contest.

Perry was named Most Valuable Player for the tournament at the award ceremony.

On Friday night St. Robert's took on the host team, Hood Junior High. Taking an 18-8 first-quarter lead, St. Robert's never looked back as they won 58-49. Perry and Lane each scored 21 points while Concemi, O'Brien, Fardy and Russell completely dominated the boards.

On Saturday afternoon St. Robert's was pitted against the number one seed and league champion, Windham, N.H. The New Hampshire champs led 14-12 at the end of the first quarter. However, in the second period, St. Robert's exploded for 20 big points to Windham's 9. Lane had 40 points, Perry 17 and Concemi 15. Lane, Perry, Wallace and Napolitano destroyed Windham's game with a devastating full court press.

The Derry final saw St. Robert's going against a very tall and tough Hampstead, N.H., All-Star team. Perry and Lane carried the scoring with St. Robert's taking a 61-41 lead after three periods. But Concemi and O'Brien were in foul trouble and again Fardy and Russell came in and took on the much taller Hampstead rebounders. The Hampstead team fought back to within three points, but Perry controlled the ball and the scoring to preserve the win. Lane had 30 points, Perry 28 points.

Perry, Concemi and Lane were named to the All-Star team. Lane was voted the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

St. Robert's still have the Lawrence Boys Club Playoffs, the Merrimack College Tournament and the Charlestown Boys Club Tournament before calling it a season. The club is now 21-2.

A.Y.B.L. Senior Division

In a playoff of all-star teams, the stars from the Sonics and Celtics won twice to take the honors in the final action of the season.

The Sonics-Celtics defeated a team made up of Sixers and Lakers by 76-40 in the opening game of the evening. Ricky Lafond paced the winners with 26 points while Scott McAllister had 14, Josh Yezerski had 9, Steve Mencis 8, Derek Brucato and Matt Dorsey 6 each, Jim Tacy 5 and Steve Howes 2. Paul Valcourt led the Sixers-Lakers with 16 points, followed by Barry Connors and Jim Reagan with 8 each and Eric Goodman and Brett Yannalfo with 4 each. Sean Sullivan and Eric Tatro had numerous assists and Jeff Valcourt played strong defense.

The team composed of the Jazz and Bulls, in a second overtime, sudden death, won over the Knicks and Bucks 73-71.

Mike Dimeo and Steve Durso scored 36 and 26, respectively. Sean Durson had 8, John Russell 4, Keith Mercer 3 and Akim Msumba 2. The Knicks-Bucks had a trio of high scorers as Jay Trepanier netted 22, Chris Poor 20 and Jim Flowers 18. Chris Nelson had 4 points, Scott Powers 3, Rob Foley and Chris Hekimian had 2 each. Greg Kinsky played well defensively.

The Sonics-Celtics rolled over the Jazz-Bulls 80-49 in their second game of the evening. The winners had 19 points from Ricky Lafond, 18 from Josh Yezerski, 11 from Scott McAllister, 10 from Jim Tacy, 8 from Steve Mencis, 6 from Steve Howes and 12 from Matt Dorsey. Derek Brucato had a lot of assists. Mike Dimeo had an outstanding game for the losers with 36 points and an evening's total of 72 points. Aleke Msumba had 5 points. Steve Durso and Akim Msumba had 4 each.

Basketball Co-Captain At Phillips

Andover resident Dan Sheehan, a sophomore at Phillips Academy, has been voted co-captain of the 1984-85 Big Blue varsity basketball team.

Sheehan's appointment is especially noteworthy because he will be a junior and captain privileges are usually reserved for senior students. He is one of the few day students and Andover in-town resident ever to be selected.

Sheehan will share the duties with Sid Smith of New York.

Sheehan was a guard with the varsity squad this past winter, during which time Phillips posted a 500 record while playing an arduous schedule against many college freshman and JV teams as well as perennial prep school powers Worcester Academy and New Hampton. He came up through the youth basketball program in Andover, playing for a championship team in the AYBL and competing on several traveling Andover All-Star teams that won a number of tournament championships while competing in towns like Wakefield, Somerville, Arlington, Lexington, Lawrence, Gardner, Athol, Whitinsville, Saugus, Tewksbury and new Bedford.

Sheehan's father, John, is a former coach in the Woburn school system and a longtime assistant, scout and advisor to the highly-successful Wakefield High program.

Sheehan is an honor roll student at Phillips Academy and a member of the baseball team.

He resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sheehan, at 10 Bateson Drive.

Darts

The Greater Lawrence Dart Tournament, benefiting the March of Dimes, will be held Sunday, March 25, at the Hibernian Hall, 9 Appleton St., Lawrence. Registrations will be at 12 noon on the third floor of the hall.

Contributions entitles entrants to play in all team events. The individual raising the most money for the March of Dimes will receive a trophy, as will the club with the highest collection.

The winners are invited to a play-off on the Greater Lawrence Telerama, April 8.

Andover 4 - Revere 2

Andover's Squirt A's have won more than 40 games this season but none more important than the March 9 win over Revere. The Revere team was undefeated through its first 20-odd games when the teams met in a Danvers League showdown January 5. Andover won 3-2, so Revere entered this latest contest primed for a grudge victory. Andover won again though, assuring at least a tie for the Danvers League championship. It was truly a team victory.

Each team scored one goal in the opening period. Brian Lane gave Andover an early 1-0 lead with a nice solo effort. Jonathan Shine and Todd Allard set the defensive pattern in the period as they continually broke up Revere's well disciplined offense. The Revere goal came on a very good passing play near the end of the period.

Revere took its only lead of the game two minutes into the second period, this time from a scramble in front. From that point on Brian Novelline completely shut down their potent offense to back-bone the Andover victory. Sean Darwin regained the tie for Andover five minutes into the period on a very pretty unassisted goal scored with two Revere defensemen hanging on him. The period ended with the score 2-2 despite steady offensive pressure by Andover's John Melillo-Colin Nix-Chris Pothier line.

Third period play went back and forth with each failing to convert good scoring opportunities. Kevin Smith and Peter Arthur had the best chances, only to see the Revere goalie come up with remarkable saves. Michael DiStefano gave Andover the winning goal on an excellent solo effort with just over two minutes left. He also closed out the scoring with 12 seconds left when he converted a setup from the corner by Sean Darwin.

Andover 5 - Wakefield 1

After tying Tewksbury 1-1 on Brian Lane's late goal in a Wilmington League game on Thursday, March 15, the Squirt A's returned to the Danvers League wars on Friday night and came away with a 5-1 victory over Wakefield which clinched the Danvers League championship.

The first period of the Wakefield game was rather sluggish as Andover just could not seem to get untracked. Wakefield scored first, with only three minutes left in the period. Andover came alive then, scoring twice in the final minutes to assume a 2-1 lead. The first goal was scored by Michael DiStefano after Kevin Smith's hard work at digging the puck out of the corner. The second was scored by Sean Darwin off a nice feed by DiStefano.

The rather slow pace returned in the second period with much of the play taking place between the blue lines. Colin Nix and Chris Pothier combined on an excellent rush for Andover which resulted in two great saves by the Wakefield goalie. Wakefield's few forays were well handled by Andover defensemen, particularly Peter Arthur and Jonathan Shine, and goalie Brian Novelline. Lane scored the only goal of the period on a length-of-the-ice rush.

Andover scored twice in the final period to wrap things up. Sean Darwin scored Andover's fourth goal, converting a nice lead pass from Todd Allard. The fifth goal came off the stick of John Melillo, who snapped in the rebound of Lane's shot from the slot.

Andover 4 - Charlestown 2

After a disappointing loss in their last outing, Andover Squirt B's was determined to celebrate St. Patrick's Day with a win over Charlestown.

The only score of the opening period came at the eight-minute mark when Andover center Jay Coburn (assist Finneran) made it a 1-0 game.

In the middle stanza Coburn's second goal (assist Hesenius) sandwiched in between two Charlestown tallies set the scene for a wide open final period.

Andover's Keith Cutler put on a goalie clinic in the third period making 13 saves, including many that would have changed the outcome of the game.

While Cutler held the Townies at bay, Andover's two leading scorers put the game out of reach. Three minutes into the period Ryan Moynihan stickhandled through the opposing defenders and went in alone to beat the Charlestown netminder for the winning goal. Good pressure by Charlestown was offset by strong defensive play by Andover until the game was almost over. But, with 16 seconds remaining, Steve Neal (assists Moynihan, Trede) jammed the puck into the goal for a 4-2 victory.

With three games remaining in the season, this victory leaves Andover in a first-place tie with next week's high-scoring opponent, Agawam.

Smokers' Lib

Smokers' Liberation classes will be held Thursdays and Tuesdays beginning April 5-17 at Lawrence General Hospital from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Participants will assess their smoking style and plan individual ways to stop smoking. The program uses the American Cancer Society's "I Quit Kit," a guided, self-help program.

A pre-registration fee is required, a portion of which is returned to anyone who attends all four classes. To register or for more information, call the hospital's department of education.

Morgan Memorial Presents Gillette "Contractor" Award

Dennis Nolan of Burlington, division manager of production and material control for The Gillette Company in Andover, is given Morgan Memorial's "Contractor of the Year" award for Gillette by board member David Schubert.

The Gillette Company, Andover Manufacturing Center, has been chosen Morgan Memorial's "Contractor of the Year."

Dennis Nolan of Burlington, Gillette's division manager of production and material control, accepted the award at Morgan Memorial's annual meeting.

Handicapped people at Morgan Memorial's Boston and North Shore workshops have been sorting three styles of Gillette's Toni curlers by color and size, and packaging them for Gillette.

Mark Phaneuf, senior buyer at the Andover plant, notes, "We started to contract out the packaging of our curler and curver kits to Goodwill, the first order was for 4,000 cases with 12 cartons per case to be packed and delivered to our Andover Manufacturing Center."

"We were immediately impressed with both the quality of the work done and the responsiveness of all individuals at Goodwill," he said. "Your work has been at a superior quality level."

"From the first small order in 1981, the business relationship has developed to the point that Goodwill has packed over 1,056,000 cartons for us during 1983," Phaneuf said.

"Changes in our delivery schedules have been met with enthusiasm and you have never jeopardized shipments to our customers."

Entrance Exam

Austin Preparatory School will administer its annual spring entrance exam for prospective students on Saturday, March 31, at 8:30 a.m. Parents of eighth and ninth grade boys who would like to apply for admission for September may call the school to register for the exam. The test will be given at the school, 101 Willow St., Reading, near the junction of Routes 93 and 128.

The school was founded in 1961 by the Order of St. Augustine, which had been requested by Richard Cardinal Cushing to provide high quality Catholic secondary education for the North Shore.

Nolan added, "Over the past several years, I have found Morgan Memorial to be a reliable, responsible vendor. From our standpoint in material control, Morgan Memorial has always been cooperative and timely in your response."

"Especially helpful has been your ability to provide transportation services for materials in and out of the plant. We all look forward to working with you in the future," Nolan said.

Letizia Presented Award

A special award for general excellence was received by Michael J. Letizia Jr., general manager and coordinator of service parts and the body shop department at Park-Hegarty Porsche-Audi, Inc., in Lawrence.

The "Quality Performance Award of Excellence" is given yearly to one company in New England by the Volkswagen and Porsche-Audi dealer network.

Complimenting Letizia at Park-Hegarty is his parts crew, composed of Kevin Harrington, John H. Hartmann, Randy Zacharias and Jude Rossi.

In addition to a gold ring and plaque, Letizia and his wife were awarded a weekend vacation by Volkswagen and Porsche-Audi.

The annual award is given to the dealership parts manager and crew on the basis of merchandising techniques, inventory management and assortment, sales and profit, overall appearance, organization of staff members and displays. Also examined in the decision are methods of storing stock, product knowledge, dealership training and participation in meetings and factory seminars.

Book Store Opens On Park Street

Andover Antiquarian Books, which opened for business February 28 at the rear of 68 Park St., is not a just another bookstore.

David Rodger of Chandler Circle has been buying and selling rare and out-of-print books for several years. Until now he has been operating out of his home and doing most of his selling at craft and antique fairs and antiquarian book shows.

The new shop will specialize in literary first editions, select non-fiction, books about books, New Englandiana, Christmas and children's books. Rodger also has old maps and prints and occasional artifacts such as old reading glasses. New additions to his stock are old board and table games and wooden puzzles. He has an extensive stock of ephemera—items printed for short term use such as postcards, trade and greeting cards, posters and broadsides, newspapers, brochures and tracts, theater tickets, programs, etc.

Many of the books are not first editions, but they are in excellent condition.

Rodger has lived in Andover since 1971 when he came to the area as director of the International Institute in Lawrence. He is a charter member of Massachusetts and Rhode Island Antiquarian Book Sellers and is the organization's program chairman. He is also chairing the New England regional meeting of antiquarian booksellers and serves as vice chairman of Friends of Andover Memorial Hall Library.

There are about 2,000 volumes in the shop. New books are brought in every week. Andover Antiquarian Books opens at 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and until 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Local Firm Awarded Contract

An Andover research and development firm was one of 281 small businesses that recently received a contract from the United States Department of Defense.

The project was one of 218 chosen from about 2,900 Defense Department proposals submitted for acceptance under the Small Business Innovation Research Program, a federal program that encourages small technology firms to compete for federal contracts.

Physical Sciences, Inc., in Research Park, won the $49,690 contract to develop a project for the United States Air Force. The technical title of the job is a study of "the use of liquid films for spacecraft survivability to laser radiation." Company spokeswoman Irene Schanzillo said Defense Department regulations prohibit disclosure of the nature of the project.

Schanzillo said that most of the 13 year old firm's work involves defense contracts. Physical Sciences, Inc., came to Andover from Woburn two years ago and employs 50 persons.

Adornato Honored At Conference

Joseph V. Adornato, 63 Harold Parker Road, Andover, was honored by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. at its annual President's Club business conference at the Fairmont Hotel and Tower in San Francisco, Calif.

A member of the John Hancock district office in Lawrence, Adornato is among 220 of the company's 5,500-member district agency field sales force who qualified for membership in the President's Club on the basis of outstanding sales achievements in 1983.

E. James Morton, John Hancock president and chief operations officer, congratulated the agency leaders on their achievements which helped the company to post sales of $21.8 billion of new life insurance volume last year.

The Public Forum

Mankind has to strive to learn to deal in good faith. A tall order then as now. To start bringing this about in the realm of religion and its relation to our kind of government, experience suggests that supernatural religious ought to modify their concepts concerning God and the devil by which they classify people and nations.

It can be observed that the advocates of any theology remind that it is not enough to be sincere; its essential to be right as a particular religion understands what is right.

But that view is a stumbling block in the way of attempts to move up to the level of good faith in human intercourse in areas of different concepts.

Its mostly hopeless to expect to move up to the high plane of good faith where two parties, holding a difference in concepts, remain convinced that a country or world is not large enough to accommodate both: the parts of Ireland, USSR vs. United States, Judaism vs Islam, Capitalism vs Communism, etc., are current examples.

This lack of good faith or goodwill, mostly nurtured by religion, accounts for the long history of man's inhumanity toward man in the name of religion.

Thus it behooves all of us to change our thinking so that this world and this country remains large enough to accommodate the good faith that seems most likely, among other things, to make public school prayer unnecessary and disarmament practical and so bring about a start toward the harmony sought by the constitution. But, alas, so lost to sight as we wastefully struggle to foolishly reestablish a start toward state religions and their fair game: the Devil

Good Program

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Last Thursday, March 15, a group of parents, future high school students and community leaders participated in a Community Visitation Day at Andover High.

Many of these visitors took part in the classroom visitation section of the program.

In the process they observed first hand what is taking place in the day-to-day operation of the high school.

I am pleased that this program took place

Education, schools, teachers have been under heavy scrutiny in the past months.

I believe this is the best way to make judgments as to what is going on in our schools

I hope that many more parents, etc., will take a little time and do the same. This is the best way to evaluate the educational environment your child will be living in for three important years of their lives.

I feel that all of Andover High faculty and staff are proud of their performances in educating your children

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Tomorrow, Friday, March 23, is the date for the Crime Prevention Seminar. Those participating include Senator Pat McGovern, Representative Sue Tucker, District Attorney Burke and Officer Joseph Oullette of the Andover Police Department. The program will start at 9 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m. You won't want to miss this opportunity to learn how you can help yourself as well as what is being done in our community to help you.

Monday, Andover's Town Election Day, is also the date of a special luncheon at the senior center. A hot and cold buffet, including roast beef, turkey, ham, Swedish meatballs, chicken wings, beans, several different salads and fruit, cost a modest $4. There will be entertainment and free transportation to the polls. Get your ticket today or no later than tomorrow noon for this delightful luncheon.

Cheese registration is going on at the center until March 30 for the April 24 distribution of cheese and butter. You can't take advantage of this unless you register in advance.

"Happy birthday!" will reverberate throughout the senior center on Thursday, April 5, as the center holds its regular monthly birthday party. If you'd like to be recognized as one of the birthday people because your natal day is in April, let the staff know and everyone will be happy to enjoy your day with you.

On April 12 Andover's senior citizens travel to the new Copley Place in Boston for a day of browsing and shopping. Cost of transportation is $6 with lunch wherever you choose to have it, at your own expense.

An Italian Festival will be held at the center April 18 with a special luncheon for $4. Tickets go on sale Monday.

Did you enjoy the ice skaters in the Olympics? Weren't they great? You can see many of them again on April 29 at the Boston Skating Club's annual "Ice Chips" show at the Walter Brown Arena. Transportation from Andover and the price of admission is only $11. Many of those whom you saw skating in the Olympics will be there.

It is not too early to purchase your tickets for the performance of "42nd Street" May 30, a matinee, with orchestra seats and transportation costing $35. The number of tickets available is limited, so don't delay. Get yours today.

You can register for the next "Elder Hostel" at Pinkham Notch July 15-21 by writing Elder Hostel, 100 Boylston St. Boston, MA 02116.

Hoop Camp

The third annual North Reading Basketball Camp will be held at North Reading High School July 23-27 from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The camp is for boys entering grades seven, eight and nine and will place emphasis on fundamentals. All areas of individual play will be covered and games will be played every day. Enrollment is limited.

For a brochure or more information, call or write Barry Kipnes, B-1 Colonial Drive, Andover, MA 01810.

Adult Education

The Middlesex Community College Adults Begin College program will offer a morning edition beginning Monday, March 25. This free, six-part program will meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Burlington campus.

Through a series of workshops, lectures, panel and open discussions, participants are introduced to all aspects of the college experience—the academic and personal learning opportunities. The program gives adults considering college a chance to ask questions, share their concerns with other adults and to get a feel for what will be expected of them as college students.

Memorial Hall
Library

A main event in this spring's library schedule is the appearance of Robert B. Audi's German engineers created an automobile so advanced in design, there's some disagreement over exactly what to call it.

The new 5000S, Audi's redefinition of the wagon.

Audi

Slings you through the wind at triple-digit "Audi and Speed" or challenging winding mountain road, the newest Audi hardly fits the accepted definition of a "wagon." But loaded with 16 seats, a spacious cargo area, and it's pure wagon in every sense.

So radically different in design that it defies conventional labels, the new Audi is the consummate blend of advanced and old, luxury and high performance, luxury and practicality.

The V (Inc's Most Aerodynamic Wagon. With an aerodynamic rating as low as .35, the new Audi is the most aerodynamic wagon ever designed.

Acceleration is outstanding, 0 to 60 in 4 seconds. Even more remarkable is its handling, steering and directional control in crosswinds are a virtual match for sports cars.

The Art Of Practical Design. Incorporated within its stunning lines is a targeted cargo area over 6'6" in length. Additional space is concealed beneath the rear deck. To facilitate loading, the tailgate opens flat with the deck.

Simply stated, if you need added space, but have rejected the stodgy image of conventional wagons, you'll find the new Audi 5000S wagon optimum.

All new Audi comes with a 24-month unlimited mileage, limited warranty. See your Porsche Audi dealer for details and a test drive.

LEGAL NOTICE

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
LAND COURT
DEPARTMENT OF THE TRIAL COURT
PETITION TO FORECLOSE TAX LIEN

(Seal) No. 65598 TL

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN, and to To any former stockholders, officers, creditors and any other persons claiming any interest in Blood Road Corporation also known as Blood Road Corp., a dissolved Massachusetts corporation formerly located in West Roxbury, Suffolk County; and said Commonwealth: Richard R. Vazza, Francis M. Vazza, and Paul J. Monahan, all officers/directors of Blood Road Corporation also known as Blood Road Corp., all now or formerly of Braintree, Norfolk County; Robert Sheehan, officer director of Blood Road Corporation also known as Blood Road Corp., now or formerly of Needham, Norfolk County; all of said Commonwealth; or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives, successors or assigns:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Town of Andover, a municipal corporation located in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth, to foreclose all rights of redemption from the tax lien proceedings described in said petition in and concerning a certain parcel of land situate in said Andover in the County of Essex and in said Commonwealth, bounded and described in said petition as follows:

Land in said Andover at 6 Apache Ave., shown as Parcel 17 on Assessors' Map 113, B. 1306, P. 285

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer, under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the twenty-third day of April next

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon

And in addition to the usual service of this notice as required by law, it is ordered that the foregoing citation be published forth with once each week for three successive weeks in the Andover Townsman a newspaper published in said Andover

Witness, WILLIAM I. RANDALL, Esquire, Chief Justice of said Court, this second day of March in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-four

Attest with Seal of said Court

Jeanne M. Maloney, Deputy Recorder
March 22, 29; April 5, 1984

The largest drum ever constructed was for the Boston World Peace Jubilee of 1872. It was 12 feet in diameter and weighed 600 pounds.

Hunneman and Company, Better Homes and Gardens

Hunneman and Company, Better Homes and Gardens, located at 6 Park Street in Andover, is the oldest and one of the largest real estate companies in Massachusetts. Founded in 1929 by Carelton Hunneman, the company soon managed all of Harvard University's housing and became widely known for marketing the finest upper market properties in Massachusetts.

From Cohasset and Hingham on the South Shore, Wellesley and Weston to the West, to Marblehead, Hamilton, and Newburyport to the north, the Hunneman offices are now located in 19 communities encompassing all of Greater Boston. Many corporations choose Hunneman to find homes for their executives due to the company's wide coverage.

Hunneman's commercial, industrial, and management divisions handle the other corporate requirements.

On each listing, Hunneman accompanies the showing rather than hand out the key, prints a brochure on the property, has the property professionally photographed, and places the property in the Hunneman Portfolio - a magazine of listings with a 100,000 circulation - the largest in New England. The Hunneman office holds the record for selling the most expensive single family homes in the Merrimack Valley.

Hunneman is affiliated with Better Homes and Gardens and Sotheby Parke Bernet International Realty. Better Homes and Gardens is a national real estate network established by the famous magazine and now includes more than 20,000 brokers nationwide. Sotheby's is an international real estate company specializing in unique properties around the world and providing special services and customers for unusual properties.

The staff of Hunneman is available at all times to provide confidential and friendly advice on any real estate matter. For more information call 475-4477 or stop by. Easy Fixin's Gourmet Kitchen

The coming of warm weather means more entertaining. Whether the occasion is Easter dinner, a graduation party, a back yard barbecue, an elegant buffet or just a celebration of spring, Easy Fixin's Gourmet Kitchen, 3 Main St. (Rt. 28), N. Reading, can make your preparations one less subject to worry about.

With just one stop you can delight your guests with scrumptious fare: everything from hors d'oeuvres to entrees, appetizers to desserts. Roast turkeys, hams, pies, cakes, cheese trays and more.

Easy Fixin's can make your entertaining as easy as pie (pun intended) with their party platters and custom catering.

Know someone else planning to entertain? Gift certificates are perfect for the busy host or hostess. Or choose a hostess gift from a variety of deli and gourmet items, including luscious chocolates.

Easy Fixin's has fresh quiche and hot luncheon specials available every day as well as daily specials, too. In addition to the specials, Easy Fixin's has a wide variety of ready-to-heat-at-home items that make any meal as easy as opening the oven door.

Easy Fixin's is the creation of Eric and Reta Murphy. They met while working at the same restaurant, were married and soon after opened Easy Fixin's. Eric and Reta have brought their talents together and the result is a fantastic assortment of palatal wonders.

With his education from Essex Agricultural School and his experience as a chef at some of New England's better restaurants, Eric continues to create culinary magic at Easy Fixin's.

Reta is also a graduate of Essex Agricultural School and an aspiring gourmet chef. Together, Reta and Eric can delight your guests with scrumptious edibles and save you time and hassles. Remember Easy Fixin's for a delicious lunch or deli items, too. Open Mon.-Wed. 10-6, Thurs.-Sat. 10-8 and Sun. 9-2. Tel. 664-5072.

Some people believe that sleeping on a piece of wedding cake is supposed to bring a dream to a single girl in which she will see her future husband

Did you ever see a firehouse that wasn't made of brick? Probably not. Adhering to strict safety standards, most high rise buildings are made from brick, too. Brick masonry is a highly fire resistant material. One brick building in Washington, D.C. has been sustaining "thousands" of fires since 1960 for fireman training purposes.

According to the Brick Institute of America, a 4 1/2" thick brick all can withstand a fire for up to two hours without twisting or buckling and while continuing to support beams and roof.

MORTGAGE SHARE AGREEMENTS

Sometimes mortgages are held by a number of individuals in shares, rather than by one person or a financial institution. This arrangement usually follows one of the two types of patterns. A mortgage loan can be split up AFTER the mortgage is created in this instance it's a good idea to have a written agreement among the individuals who have subscribed. This is called a share ownership or participation agreement. It tells about the order and amount of the various shares. It also covers, among other items, the distribution of interest and principal and the method of collection. Operation and management of the mortgage are also provided for in the agreement. Share ownership agreements are usually used when there is a junior and a senior share involved.

On the other hand, a group of two or more people can get together at the TIME the mortgage is created and contribute the amount of the loan. When this happens the mortgage is made out to ALL of them. Their names appear along with information on each person's share. Data as to whether all the shares are equal or whether there is some priority is also put into the mortgage.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

K. of C. Will Again Attempt To Overcome Rezoning Opposition

The Knights of Columbus will ask town meeting to take another look at rezoning their Frontage Road property next month, a proposal voters defeated in 1981, because their residential parcel is "an island" surrounded by industrial land.

And their neighbors will urge voters to deny that request, as they did in an emotional appeal to the annual meeting three years ago, in part because rezoning would leave their residential property an even smaller island in a sea of industry.

With Article 53, the Knights of Columbus are seeking to rezone their 6.7-acre parcel off Frontage Road from Single Residence C to Industrial A zoning. The site is bounded by Route 93, a cloverleaf exchange, Frontage Road and Osgood Street.

K of C officials hope to sell the property, and believe industrial zoning would greatly improve their chances for a sale. They are currently "entertaining a few proposals," according to Arthur Lavelly, president of the board of directors, although none are solid at this time.

A Boston developer, Beacon Company of Post Office Square, had bid $600,000 on the property last summer, with plans to build a multi-story hotel complex on the site. The developer never followed through on the bid, however, with no explanation to the Knights of Columbus, Lavelly said.

"You have to understand that we're an island. There's all industry all wrapped around us, except for a couple of houses," Lavelly told the TOWNSMAN last week. He likened the property to a blemish "on the back of an elephant."

He noted that an office park complex is currently under construction on a neighboring 3.3-acre Frontage Road site, and that Digital Equipment Corp. plans to build on a Dascomb Road site just down the road — on land rezoned by town meeting in 1981.

Lavelly said the Knights "haven't heard" from neighbors who might oppose the article.

But Margaret Holmes of Osgood Street, who spoke against the 1981 article, said K of C officials "choose to ignore us." Holmes said neighbors from Osgood Street and Apple Blossom Road are opposed to the rezoning proposal, and will speak against it at town meeting.

The neighbors feel that the "rezoning in itself is not a good thing for the town," Holmes said last week. "The Knights of Columbus, as far as we can determine, have no justifiable grounds for rezoning — we haven't seen any argument to warrant it."

Neighbors fear that industrial zoning would create "a great deal of hardship" for them by increasing traffic in the area, which they believe could inconvenience and endanger residents, especially children.

Town officials "have not addressed" existing traffic problems in the area, Holmes said, "and neither has industry. We are very concerned about the whole welfare of the neighborhood."

Article 53 will need a two-thirds vote to pass at town meeting, which convenes Monday, April 2.

The Planning Board has scheduled a public hearing on the article for next Tuesday, March 27.

Office Building Planned

A Braintree company will request a variance from the Zoning Board of Appeals to build a three-story office building on River Road.

The variance is needed because the proposed building will be within 300 feet of an existing dwelling.

Old River Associates, Braintree, is the prospective buyer of the land where the building may be built. The company will be represented at the Thursday, April 5, zoning hearing by Atty. Philip Sullivan, of the Andover law firm of Greeley and Shea.

The hearing will begin at 7:30 p.m., in the second floor meeting room of the Memorial Hall Library, Elm Square.

A sheet of fabric softener in the wastebasket helps give a room a nice soft smell in a hurry.
